Area Producers Oppose Milk Marketing Order

DIES UNDER TRUCK—Gilbert Cole, 61, of Hurley, was killed instantly early today when this pickup truck he was driving on Route 209 near Stone Ridge overturned and pinned him beneath it. Troopers said he apparently lost control of the truck which shot across the highway, struck a flagpole and overturned. (Anner photo).

Guarantee Not Sure On Raises

Unbearable Loss Cited by Relyea

A Federal proposal to extend a New York milkshed price-fixing order to 22 up-state counties, including Ulster, was opposed at a hearing in Poughkeepsie today by the Kingston Area Milk Producers' Association.

THE HEARING was being held by the U. S. Agriculture Department. Similar hearings are being held throughout the state in various localities to permit dairymen to appear and present testimony. A hearing was held Tuesday and Wednesday at Albany. The Poughkeepsie hearing will continue on Friday.

Charles F. Relyea, president of the Kingston Area Milk Producers' Association, in a prepared statement submitted at the hearing and read into the record, opposed the proposed Federal price-fixing.

APPEARING on behalf of the 63 milk producers in the Kingston area, Relyea, a dairy farmer at West Hurley, operates a dairy farm of 200 acres and rents an additional 50 acres for pasture and hay. He has a herd of 30 milk cows.

Relyea attended hearings at Newark, N. J., and Albany, and at Poughkeepsie today stated he had been interested to learn the farmers who favored the extension of the Federal orders were of the opinion that eventually they would obtain more money for their milk if the order went into effect. He said there was nothing in the proposals that guaranteed any such increase in price and called the idea "wishful thinking" on the part of those who favored the order.

RELYEA SUBMITTED figures on prices of sales to dealers in the Kingston area, with a comparison of pool over a period from 1953 to June 1, 1956.

The average annual price per hundredweight for 3.5 milk, extra paid for additional butterfat, in 1953 was $5.43 from dealers and $4.55 pool price adjusted for freight and location differentials; 1954 the dealer price was $5.33 and pool price $4.32; 1955 the dealer price was $5.08 and the pool price $4.29.

Stone Ridge to Have Drive-in Bank Soon

The Kerhonkson National Bank, Kerhonkson, has been granted approval by the comptroller of currency, Washington, D. C., to establish a drive-in branch bank in Stone Ridge.

The board of directors contemplate erecting a building to house the branch on a corner lot on Route 209 between the Colonial food lockers and the Elmendorf service station.

Bridge Reaches Near Center of Hudson Channel

Super-structure of the Kingston-Rhinecliff Bridge should reach center channel within the next two weeks from the west side, and trusswork from the east side is about 800 feet out, an engineer said today.

Cantilever work has progressed to the point where the span is taking substantial form on both sides. About 2,100 feet has been completed on the west side, and work is progressing toward the high center section.

The center of the bridge will consist of two 500-foot spans, and at its middle the span will be 250 feet above water.

Work is expected to start this summer on the paving of both approaches, and bids for that work are due to be opened July 26 in Albany.

A legal technicality has been delaying preparation of plans for bidding on the road which will connect Route 9W with Route 32 at the western bridge approach. That problem concerning the title of a section of land needed for the right-of-way is expected to be settled this month.

In the event that the title problem is not adjusted, however, it will be necessary to change the route to avoid the land involved.

Truck Driver Hurt

Raymond L. Berardi, 25, of 11 Adams street, driver of a truck owned by A. Greenhouse, Inc., Albany, was slightly injured when the truck body came in contact with the East Union street railroad bridge yesterday. Officers William Slover and Gurnsey Burger, Sr., reported at 6:52 p. m., that the truck was headed east on the street. Berardi suffered a nose injury and was treated at Kingston Hospital, the report said. The truck was towed from the scene.

Newkirk Likely Appointee As Acting Postmaster Here

A former three-term mayor of Kingston likely will be appointed acting postmaster here, it was learned through an authoritive source today.

The information was that Oscar V. Newkirk, 51 Clarendon avenue, will become head of the Kingston office through appointment by President Eisenhower.

The postmaster post was left vacant through the death of Col. William R. Kraft on July 2.

Col Kraft died suddenly at his home, 130 Fair street, while on his lunch hour.

Salary of the postmaster last year, based on business at the Kingston central office was $7,020, it was reported.

Appointment by the President must be confirmed by the U. S. Senate, which is controlled by Democrats.

Mr. Newkirk, a Republican, was elected to three terms as mayor here in 1947, 1949 and 1951.

An acting postmaster must take a Civil Service examination for postmaster, and, if he passes, the Senate confirmation is necessary for him to get the job.

Relative to the acting postmaster appointment, Mr. Newkirk reserved comment today.

State Senator Arthur H. Wicks, chairman of the Ulster County Republican Committee, said there was nothing official to announce.

However, is is reported that he and those high in local Republican ranks are strongly in favor of Mr. Newkirk's appointment.

OSCAR V. NEWKIRK

The former mayor recently sought the Republican nomination for Ulster county sheriff, which went to Claude Bell, supervisor of the Town of Olive.

At present, Mr. Newkirk is serving as assistant secretary of the Public Service Commission

Security Release to Boom Plan

SAGE System Is Going to Public

Thomas J. Watson Jr., president of International Business Machines Corp., in a 30-minute talk at the Kingston plant Wednesday afternoon, told employes:

1) That his father, who died recently, would be missed not only in the company itself but among his many friends and that his father's policies, especially employe relations, would be continued.

2) That although the Electric Typewriter Division would be moved to Lexington, Ky., local employes need not fear the loss of their jobs and could transfer to the Kentucky plant if they so desired.

3) That IBM will place six new plants in operation within the next six years and the company, he predicted, will be a billion-dollar corporation within the next few years.

4) Most of the secrets of the SAGE system will be made available to the public in the near future and the use of the system in controlling commercial as well as military air traffic within the continental limits of the United States will be made available.

Mr. Watson, making a tour of principal IBM installations throughout the nation, spoke here over the intercommunications system to the other plants in the city, and to personnel at Poughkeepsie military products division, McGuire Air Force Base, N. J., and people in research at Massachusetts Institute of Technology, Lexington, Mass.

Yesterday's talk was heard by more than 5,500 people. Today, Mr. Watson was scheduled to speak at IBM laboratory in Poughkeepsie.

Mr. Watson paid tribute to his father, the founding genius of the business machines corporation and assured employes there would not be a deviation from his father's policies in the operation of the company, according to employes who heard him.

He said nationally changing times require, from time to time, a change in business policies but that employe relations would be unchanged.

While the ET Division will be moved to Lexington, Ky., he assured Kingston employes that

Hurley Man Killed as Truck Upsets

A Hurley dairyman was killed instantly early today when his light pickup truck went out of control and overturned on Route 209, about a quarter mile south of Stone Ridge.

Gilbert H. Cole, 61, apparently lost control of the truck as he approached Route 209 from a side road, Kingston state police reported.

Troopers said Mr. Cole was driving east on a town road when the truck failed to negotiate a turn into Route 209. The truck shot across the highway, struck a flagpole and overturned, pinning him between the body of the truck and the right side door. He was dead when troopers arrived.

Coroner Francis J. McCardle issued a verdict of accidental death due to a compressed chest, after an autopsy was performed. He said Mr. Cole was driving alone in the truck at the time of the accident which was set at 12:30 a. m.

Funeral services will be held from the parlors of A. Carr and Son, 1 Pearl street, Sunday at 2 p. m. Burial will be in Hurley Cemetery.

Surviving are one brother, Robert J. Cole, and one sister, Miss Bessie N. Cole, both of Hurley.

He was a member of the Hurley Reformed Church, Hurley Grange, Historical Society and the Milk Dealers Association.

Democrats May Blame GOP for Phone Raise

Albany, N. Y., July 12 (AP)—The New York Telephone Co. is sitting squarely in the middle of what could turn into the hottest political issue of the forthcoming state elections.

The issue revolves around the company's three-year-old bid for a multi-million-dollar increase in rates—a move that would tack a sizeable sum onto John Q. Voter's monthly telephone bill.

The heat is generated by Democratic claims that the Republicans must be held responsible for any such increase in the cost of telephone service.

Democrats figure they would have a powerful argument—and the sympathetic attention of telephone-users—if the company should win its case and raise rates before the November balloting.

But the company reportedly has decided to postpone any action to further its proposal until the fall elections are over.

At this point, a capsule look at the background of the issue:

In 1953, the telephone company sought to raise its rates by $68,850,000 a year. The company claimed it needed money to meet rising costs and attract capital for expansion. It proposed to charge 75 cents a month more for most home phones and $2 more for most business phones.

The Public Service Commission rejected the proposal in October, 1954. But the company went to the Court of Appeals and won an order directing the PSC to reopen the case. The court supported the company's contention that the PSC should consider replacement cost of company property, instead of only original cost, in considering the case.

Before the hearing could be re-opened, the PSC (whose chairman, by the way, is Republican Benjamin F. Feinberg) moved in the legislature to wipe out the company's chief argument. The Assembly passed a bill that would have removed any obligation by the PSC to consider replacement values. But the bill appeared bogged down

Lists Announced By Civil Service For Positions

Eligibility lists announced yesterday by the Municipal Civil Service Commission, contain the names of six men eligible for appointment to the fire department, and three for the police department.

Others are for appointments in the engineering department, and stenographers in the education and water departments and city laboratory.

William A. Fitzgerald, of 96 Bruyn avenue, tops the patrolmen's list and John J. Berardi, of 95 Second avenue, tops the firemen's list, with ratings of 96 and 94 respectively.

Only three of more than 20 men who took the police department examination qualified. Police Chief Raymond VanBuren said earlier in the year that at least 10 men should be appointed to the police department.

No vacancies are listed for the fire department at present, but it has been noted that the department could use more men.

The following eligible lists were recently established:

Police patrolman—William A. Fitzgerald, 96 Bruyn avenue, 96; Garvin E. Fisher, 460 First avenue, 85; Harry P. Tempelaar, 143 Clinton avenue, 84.

Firemen—John J. Berardi, 95 Second avenue, 94; Joseph M. Carle, 48 Howland avenue, 92; Frank N. Ostrander, 101 Bruyn avenue, 88; John W. Kennedy, 9 New street, 86; Frank J. McMahon, 24 Henry street, 83; Reginald R. Gale Jr., 131 Elmendorf street, 82.

Senior engineering aide— Ignazio A. Bosco, 252 East Union street, 88.33; Frank J. McMahon, 24 Henry street, 80.

Engineering aide—Martin W. Kelly, 86 Spring street, 86.67;

Eisenhower to Accept Nomination in Person

Gettysburg, Pa., July 12 (AP)—After talking political plans with President Eisenhower, GOP Chairman Leonard Hall today predicted a "vigorous campaign" with Eisenhower traveling to different parts of the country by plane.

But Hall still said Eisenhower may confine himself to five or six major speeches, to be delivered by television and radio.

The Republican national chairman spent nearly an hour at Eisenhower's country estate, then held a news conference afterward.

The meeting with reporters brought out these points:

1. Eisenhower plans to go to the Republican National Convention and accept his renomination in person.

2. Rep. Charles A. Halleck of Indiana will put the President's name in nomination at the San Francisco meeting which opens Aug. 20.

3. So far as Hall is concerned, the ticket still is Eisenhower and Vice President Nixon. He said that "absolutely" the chief executive made it clear today that he still would be pleased to have Nixon as his running mate once more.

4. Hall looks for Nixon to play a big and "very vigorous" role in the campaign.

Asked how the Republicans will meet the issue of the health of the President who has suffered a heart attack and undergone a major operation in the past few months, Hall said it already has been met by "frankness and candor."

Hall said that is "the complete answer" and "nothing has been kept from the American people."

Hall said he feels nothing further is required from Eisenhower in the way of formal reaffirmation of his intention to run for a second term.

To a question whether Eisenhower had reaffirmed his desire to have Nixon occupy second place on the GOP ticket, Hall said that he thought he would have something to announce on that in the near future, as a result of his talk with the President.

As of now, the National Chairman said, there is no indication that any one other than Nixon may be placed in nomination at the GOP convention for the vice presidency.

Boat-Building Plays Big Part in Economy of City

The local boating and shipbuilding industry and the part it has played in Kingston's economy was the subject of a talk delivered to the Kingston Rotary Club at its weekly meeting Wednesday by Roger Mabie, general manager of the shipyard of I. D. Associates, Inc. of this city. The historical background of the boating industry was traced and a short movie on the construction of landing craft at Island Dock was shown to the Rotarians.

Mr. Mabie pointed out that the last previous great period of dynamic growth of the Kingston area took place in the latter half of the 19th century and was based almost entirely upon the commerce generated along Rondout Creek. The opening of the Delaware and Hudson Canal on October 16, 1826 was mentioned as the impetus that engendered the boat building industry at Kingston.

Mr. Mabie said as much as 600,000 tons of coal were stored on what is now Island Dock for trans-shipment by coastal barge and schooner down the Hudson river to New York and out Long Island Sound as far east as Providence. It was mentioned how a happy combination of geography and local natural resources accounted for the dynamic growth of the local economy during that period.

In addition to coal, cement, natural ice, bluestone and brick were itemized as the commodities which formed the backbone of the commerce generated in the Kingston area.

Mr. Mabie said that at the peak of business in the period following the Civil War there were 18 to 20 brickyards in the Kingston area and many huge wooden structures to house the natural ice harvested between Poughkeepsie and Albany.

It was pointed out that all of the commodities mentioned moved by barge during this period, and that the Cornell Steamboat Company was the largest towing concern in America, owning a total of 66 towing vessels.

To supply the large number of barges used to transport these commodities, there were approximately 10 boatyards in operation at one period along Rondout Creek. Approximately seven out of every 10 barges in use on the Hudson river and New York Harbor during that period were built at local shipyards.

Mr. Mabie oulined the decline that set in during the 20 year period when the Delaware and Hudson Canal was sold in 1899 up to the advent of World War I. It was pointed out how coal became transported by railroad rather than by canal, how artificial ice spelled the doom of the natural ice industry and how the advent of Portland cement largely did

County Will Pay $459,690 Towards Highway User Tax

Ulster county motorists will pay about $459,690 or one per cent of the states share of new highway user taxes according to Empire State Chamber of Commerce. The state's share is estimated at $45,969,000.

The highway construction program authorized by Congress and signed into law by President Eisenhower will be paid from new highway user taxes and any growth in revenues from present highway user taxes. The county figure is based on 46,150 vehicle registrations.

New York motorists probably pay about 7.7 per cent of these taxes according to the Empire State Chamber. New York state will receive about 6.9 per cent of the new federal highway aid.

As part of the new federal financing program, the state will receive in fiscal 1957 $78,900,000 in addition to $56,300,000 under the old law. Thereby the state receives a total of $135,200,000 in federal aid. This additional aid is substantially more than the state has spent for highway construction from its own funds in any one of the last three years. In 1954 the state spent for highways from the Capital Construction Fund $79,000,000; 1955 $89,700,000 and 1956 $85,800,000.

Plunket Named to State Commission on Pensions

Gov. Harriman today announced the appointment of Attorney Thomas J. Plunket, of 276 Pearl street, chairman of the Ulster County Democratic committee, as a member of the State Commission on Pensions.

The governor named Mr. Plunket to a five-year term to succeed Robert M. Lloyd, whose term had expired.

Members of the commission are paid $75-a-day when on commission business, up to $1,800 a year.

Named as a candidate for surrogate at the Democratic county convention in April, Mr. Plunket said today his appointment by the governor "would in no way interfere with that candidacy."

Born in New York city, he has been a resident of Ulster county most of his life. Mr. Plunket is a graduate of Ellenville High School. He attended New York University School of Business Administration and was graduated from Fordham University and Fordham Law School.

He was elected chairman of the Ulster County Democratic Committee in April, 1947, succeeding Joseph Forman of Woodstock.

Mr. Plunket served as a member of the board of education and as clerk of the Ulster County Board of Elections. During World War 2, he served in the Army.

Saugerties Site Is Purchased By Craft, Abernethy, Gaffken

A contract for purchase of the Washburn property at Barclay Heights, Saugerties, has been signed by Raymond E. Craft, James J. Abernethy and William Gaffken. The property consists of a large tract of land on the easterly side of Route 9W in the southerly section of the village.

The tract runs along Route 9W for a distance of 350 feet and running back 450 feet to Simmons street. There are two residences and several other buildings on the property. The Washburn homestead across Simmons street is not included in the transaction.

Plans are being made for subdividing the tract into building lots. The entire property is within the village limits and is served by village water and other utilities.

Rusk and Rusk are attorneys for the Washburn estate.

PRESENTS AAA PEDESTRIAN AWARD—An award for outstanding community activity in protecting pedestrians against traffic accidents was presented to the city Wednesday. The award, in the form of an honorable mention plaque is presented to Mayor Stang (left) by Martin Klein, assistant secretary of the Automobile Club of New York, as Police Chief Raymond Van Buren observes presentation. The city received the award because it was rated one of the safest communities in the country in its population group in the American Automobile Association's annual Pedestrian Protection Contest for 1955. There were 194 communities in Kingston's population group entered and the city ranked among the top 45. (Automobile Club of New York photo)

Lasher, Beadle, and Schirmer Win Saugerties School Posts

The issue of proportional representation in the 21 community districts of the Saugerties Central School system won a decisive victory Wednesday night with the reelection of Mrs. Mary G. Lasher of Saxton for a three-year term as member of the Board of Education. She defeated Saugerties attorney Louis P. Francello of Glasco 837 to 671 for the position on the board which represented District 5 (Quarryville, West Saugerties, Katsbaan, Saxton, Manorville and Cedar Grove.)

In another contest for a position representing the village of Saugerties, Kenneth G. Beadle, Main street pharmacist, unseated George P. Holmes, former mayor of Saugerties and incumbent by 27 votes. Beadle received 750 and Holmes 723.

Ernest E. Schirmer, Saugerties attorney who ran unopposed was reelected for the other three-year position representing the village, polling 1,055 votes.

A total of 1,594 ballots were cast at the Saugerties Central High School polling place between 12 noon and 10 p. m. There were 78 void ballots.

The Citizens' Advisory Committee waged a vigorous campaign for the reelection of Mrs. Lasher in order to "insure fair representation in all areas of the centralized district."

The committee favored adherence to the established formula for "fair representation" which permits four places on the board of education for the village of Saugerties and one representative for each of the other five community districts in the township.

Ogdensburg, N. Y., July 12 (AP)—Thomas A. Murray, president of the New York Federation of Labor, says that an anti-labor trend is growing in legislative bodies.

He told the annual convention of the international Union of Bricklayers, Masons and Plasterers that an increasing number of people in government were trying to reverse what they considered a trend of pro-labor legislation.

Murray urged a continued fight against what he termed forces unfriendly to labor.

Army Maneuver

Moline, Ill., (AP)—Rumors that a hand grenade was buried in the Robert Sanquist yard prompted Mrs. Sanquist to call the 5th Army. It sent a two-man demolition team which also used a mine detector on the adjoining yard of Lila Holmes. Lt. Charles Caldwell of Ft. Sheridan probed and dug for two hours but found only bottle caps, tin foil, pipes and assorted rusty nails. No grenade.

Rejects Bulganin Plea

Rome, July 12 (AP) — Italy joined her western partners today in rejecting a disarmament plea by Soviet Premier Nikolai Bulganin. The cabinet approved a reply, read by Foreign Minister Gaetano Martino, which followed the line of the American and British reaction. The Bulganin note, addressed to heads of state in the United States, Britain, France and Italy, said Russia was reducing her armed forces and suggested that the western powers follow suit. Britain's Prime Minister Eden said Monday the Russians were only copying what the western allied powers have been doing since 1945.

Urges Coffee Boycott

New York, July 12 (AP) — A Prominent eastern coffee processor urged today that Americans "stop drinking coffee" as the only effective way of combatting rising coffee prices. William Black, president of the Chock Full o' Nuts Coffee Corp., made the surprising suggestion. The American housewife is "getting the business," Black contended, and a coffee boycott is the only answer.

Baltimore, (AP)—Thanks to the thriftiness of U. S. Budget Director Rowland R. Hughes, the Baltimore Assn. of Commerce has brought the 65 billion dollar federal budget $5 closer to being balanced. When the association invited Hughes, a New York banker, to speak at one of its meetings, officials also requested a photograph of him to publish in the association's magazine. Hughes replied that the federal budget does not appropriate money for photographs of the budget director. The association had to pay a commercial photographer $5 to take a picture of Hughes.

Slavonic Folk Music Lecture Held at Maverick

Woodstock, July 12—The lecture recital on Slavonic folk music presented by H. A. Schimmerling Monday night was enthusiastically received by a capacity crowd at the Maverick Concert Hall. Schimmerling has lived up to his principles to present the "unusual musical subjects," in presenting the wealth of musical folklore of southeast Europe. He performed a motley group of folksongs from Moravia, Slovakia, Croatia, Bosnia, Macedonia, etc. His enlightening commentary was presented with charm and humor and proved his profound knowledge of the subject. He also acted as superb accompanist.

Naomi Lieberman was the capable vocalist of the evening. She sang this difficult and problematic music in the vernacular expertly. The natural beauty of her voice, her artistic interpretation and charming stage appearance are enough prerequisites for this young artist's promising career.

Mr. Schimmerling, in his capacity as promoter of "good contemporary composers" presented Mark Lawner who, together with Arlene Weiss, performed his "Suite for Clarinet and Piano," and Lawner's "Five Preludes for Piano," were performed by the capable young pianist Gerald Schwarts.

Mr. Schimmerling's explanation of the necessity of free admission concerts was spontaneously acclaimed by the audience which reacted enthusiastically to the entire program.

Lutheran Church Notes

Woodstock, July 12 — The theme of the message at the Woodstock Lutheran Church, by the pastor, the Rev. Olney E. Says Riesel Will Be Appointed to Drug Commission

Buffalo, N. Y., July 12 (AP)—Labor columnist Victor Riesel will be appointed to the recently-established State Narcotics Commission, the Buffalo Courier-Express reported today.

In a dispatch from its Albany correspondent, the newspaper said the columnist would be named to the commission by Senate Republican Majority Leader Walter J. Mahoney of Buffalo.

Riesel was blinded by acid recently when he was attacked by an unknown assailant.

The state Legislature created the commission at its last session to study narcotics problems.

Teenage Employment At Postwar Highs

Washington, July 12 (AP)—Employment of teenagers 14 through 17 in April and May this year reaches postwar highs for these months, the Department of Labor reported today.

Predicting teenage employment will increase during the summer vacation period, the department urged communities throughout the nation to pay attention to the health and physical fitness of teenagers taking their first jobs.

In a new publication of the Bureau of Labor Standards entitled "two city programs," the department noted progress in Philadelphia and Cleveland in providing necessary health, counseling and other services to boys and girls applying to the schools for employment certificates.

A WORTHWHILE DOCUMENT

Few nonfiction books of recent times are likely to stir as much interest or controversy as Robert Donovan's "Eisenhower: The Inside Story." Its appearance raises some questions we all ought to look at.

For one thing, there is the matter of the administration's making available to Donovan, a New York Herald Tribune reporter, intimate proceedings of the executive branch of a character heretofore always withheld from both Congress and the courts.

Naturally enough, Congress is annoyed. Thus far senators have failed to get any administration spokesman to appear before them to discuss the issue. The Eisenhower people are saying nothing in public at all, but general report has it that Sherman Adams, top presidential assistant, made the material available.

No doubt Congress will recall the Donovan book whenever in the future it demands documents or other information from the White House. No doubt, too, the refusal to give this material will be just as firm as in the past.

To some this might seem both unfair and unreasonable. But there is nevertheless rather broad acceptance for the idea that any administration is privileged to judge for itself what information shall be disclosed, and to whom.

Handing "inside stuff" over to a single reporter is not an unprecedented procedure. Ernest Lindley did a similar job on Franklin Roosevelt's first term, and Joseph Alsop and his collaborators turned out three volumes on his second term.

An administration bent on giving out the story will of course choose a reporter reasonably sympathetic to its cause. Inevitably, too, because of the delicate security questions involved in many of today's affairs, it must restrict release. Donovan had to get a top-grade Q-clearance before he could peek at the documents.

Within these necessary limitations, Donovan is felt by most critics to have done a pretty competent job of reporting on what he was shown and could learn.

We have to understand that it isn't the complete "inside story." It is founded mainly on minutes of Mr. Eisenhower's cabinet meetings. Proceedings of the top-level National Security Council, where most of the big decisions affecting peace and defense are taken, are not involved. Vital staff discussions in the nature of things are also not drawn upon.

Nevertheless, there is much fascinating material in his book, and not all of it complimentary to the administration, by a long shot. Evidence of that is the Democratic declaration that it will be used by the party's candidates in the coming campaign.

What the book discloses is a subject in itself. Suffice it to say here that politicians, newsmen, historians and ordinary citizens should all be glad it has been published. We cannot help but be better informed because of it.

REALISTIC ATTITUDE

Gen. Nathan F. Twining has come back from Russia with what is essentially an encouraging report on how our air power stacks up against that of the Soviet Union. "There is no question," he said publicly after reporting to President Eisenhower, that in point of aircraft quality the United States still holds the lead.

It would be unwise to settle back in a state of pleased over-confidence, however. Two things make such an attitude unrealistic.

The first of these is General Twining's opinion, confirmed by his Moscow visit, that the Russians are making great strides toward U. S. qualitative standards. The second is that the Russians showed the American officers only as much as they wanted to show them. What they held back, and how that affects their air strength, are question that remain unanswered.

'These Days'

By GEORGE SOKOLSKY

THE HERRING

The herring is a lowly fish that usually stays out of politics. Maatjes, kippered, marinated, bismarck, however you like the fish, it has become a serious problem in international relations, particularly to the United States. Once before, I knew of the herring in politics and that was in China where the salt smugglers imported barrels of herring from Holland, threw the fish away, permitted the brine to evaporate and sold the salt for a good price. There is nobody who knows better than a Chinese how to turn a by-product into a profit. Also, there is the celebrated red herring of American politics which is not a herring at all but a figure of speech going back to the good old days of the Yankee peddler and the New England four corners general store where today nary a herring is found.

The herring, however, that troubles us most is the one that is caught by the fishermen of Iceland. Unfortunately the United States is not a tremendous consumer of herrings, not even when they come pickled in white wine in tin cans. But the Russians eat enormous quantities of raw, salted herrings which go very well with vodka. A chew of herring and a sip of vodka is an excellent appetizer, particularly before a heavy meal. It starts things off right, if you are used to it.

So while the presence of Americans, with their heavy pocketbooks, produces an inflation in Iceland, the Russians come along and buy not only the herring but any other fish the Icelanders may have. The Russians have a trade agreement covering the subject and it has been made to apply also to Poland, East Germany and Czechoslovakia, countries that are large herring consumers. I have known people from those countries who could not start a meal without first having a piece of herring.

Iceland-Soviet trade is booming, the Russians taking about 28 per cent of Icelandic fish and selling petroleum at a reasonable price to produce a trade balance. When two countries exchange products on a fairly balanced basis, their friendship is likely to develop, fair exchange being regarded as no robbery. The Icelanders found the Americans useful because their economy was strengthened by the import of American dollars, but they also experienced an inflation because the Americans made goods scarce by purchasing too much, by paying higher wages than is normal for the country, and by tending to introduce the American standard of living before a country is ready for it.

Soviet Russia, on the other hand, buys Iceland's principal product, fish, and pays for that with products that Iceland needs, like petroleum, sold not at a market price but at a barter price based on cold war politics. The Russians employed trade to make the United States unpopular in Iceland. It is a method for neutralizing a strategic base.

So, it is this trade that makes the Icelander tend to be neutral between the United States and Soviet Russia. Of course, if the American would eat a herring a day, we could probably keep Iceland's friendship and we might all die from arteriosclerosis. What I do not understand is why the Russians do not all die from arteriosclerosis after eating so much salt herring. Perhaps it is because they drink vodka which dilates the capillaries or something like that. Let us not become too scientific over the herring; it is unfortunate enough that the fish has gone into politics.

Nasser's big problem was how to sell more cotton rather than the quarrel over Israel. So he found a way of selling Egypt's cotton to Poland and Red China and he took in exchange sufficient arms from the Skoda Works in Czechoslovakia to become a military power. By the process he employed, he established clearly that all countries of the Soviet Universal State work together on a deal like this. The same is not true of the NATO powers. Obviously, the United States could not absorb Egypt's cotton, whatever the politics, because actually we cannot absorb our own which is becoming quite a burden to the taxpayer. Nor can we absorb Denmark's butter or Great Britain's bicycles or Japan's textiles without disturbing the economy of our own country.

Therefore the question becomes: how can we play politics in a world where the herring is more important than an air base?

That Body of Yours

THE MENTAL HOSPITAL

We have been discussing Dr. Rees and the Warlingham Park Hospital near Croydon, England, which is the first major mental hospital without any locked doors. It is Dr. Rees' conviction that a poorly run mental hspital is a remarkably effective device for driving people insane.

"How would you feel," he asks, "if you are badly depressed and you've been sent to a mental hospital to make you feel better? First thing you know you are deprived of your belongings. Women patients even have their wedding rings taken away. You are not allowed to eat with a knife and fork. Dangerous. Might hurt yourself, you're told. A jailer with a bunch of keys restricts your comings and goings. The only time you are allowed outside the building is to go into an airing court and walk around and around.

"Now, do you think this combination would cure your depression? Of course not: if you had to endure it long enough you'd surely become a full-blown psychotic case. Patients aren't so wrong when they sometimes exclaim, 'I'll go mad if I stay here any longer!' A mental hospital, if it is to fulfill its purpose, should be a place where a patient would naturally feel more cheerful than he would in his own home."

Dr. Rees feels keenly that the patients should learn to shoulder responsibilities. Too often they become docile, vegetative creatures perfectly adapted to the secure routine of the mental hospital and unfit to resume normal life again. At Warlingham Park the patients in each ward make up their own work roster, so as to divide fairly the chores in the kitchens, gardens, dormitories and halls. As a result, the hospital is spotlessly clean.

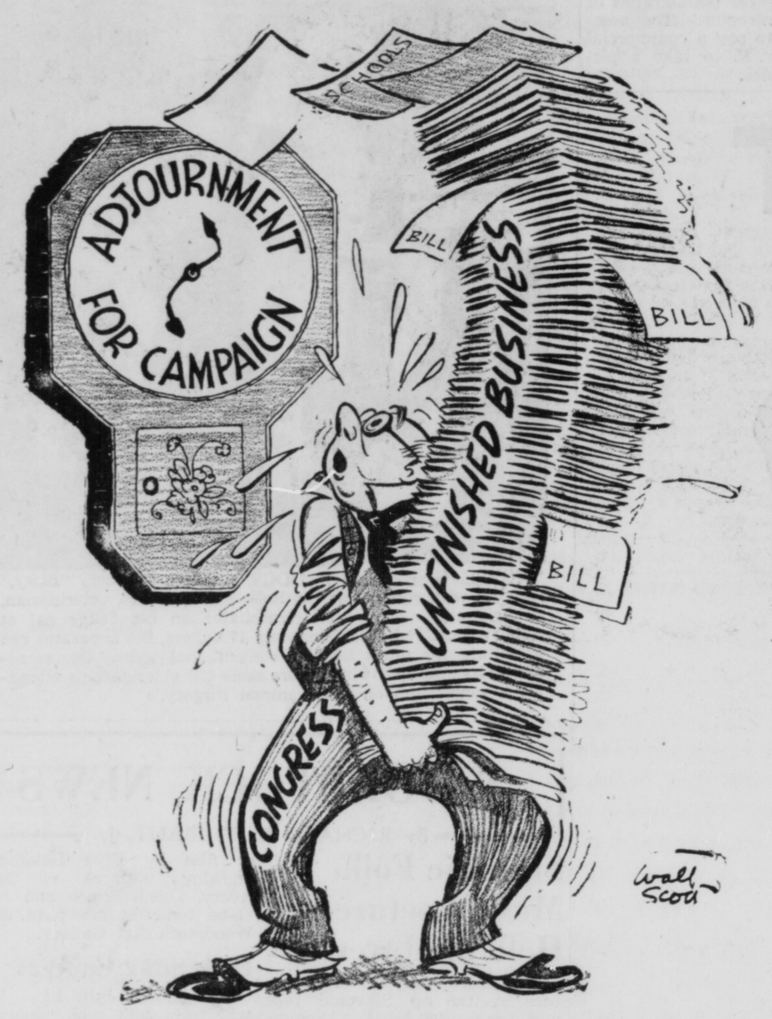

Dr. Rees' program goes much further than using these normal duties as a means of treatment. The unhappiest creatures of every mental hospital are the abject, helpless men and women who huddle in dark corners, unable to communicate with others or control their bodily functions. They are the sorest trials for the staff and objects of pity and scorn from most of the other patients. Dr. Rees saw them as a challenge. They had gone back to infancy in their minds—why not toilet-train and table-train them as you would an infant?

So began the Habit-Training Ward. Other patients on the way to recovery were enlisted as assistants, under expert nurse direction. Every morning at seven they helped these sad cases dress and take them to the toilet. At eight, they help them with breakfast, then another visit to the toilet. Then they help them clean up their ward. After a nurse has inspected them to see if they are properly dressed, the patients are taken for a walk about the grounds. Day after day of this rigid schedule helps them develop regular habits and improves their ability to take care of themselves. In time, they too may be given the responsibility of helping a nurse take care of a group of similar patients.

The patients who are chosen to help the nurses develop an amazing sense of responsibility, even though most of them are still pretty sick mentally. For example, one 19-year-old girl, who had been in the habit of running away, was put in charge of six old ladies. When it was remarked that she had stopped running away, she replied, "How can I? Since they have put me in charge of those six old ladies, I've got to see they're washed and dressed and then take them out for a walk and by the time I've brought them back, it's too much bother to run away."

Edson's Washington News Notebook

By PETER EDSON
NEA Washington Correspondent

Washington — (NEA) — Billions for bigger bombs and bombers to destroy civilization and more millions for motorists to ride on super-highways. But not one cent for federal aid to education.

House of Representatives final action in killing the amended 400 million dollar Federal School Construction bill introduced by Rep. Augustine B. Kelley (D-Pa) makes that the policy this session of Congress, at least.

There will be long arguments and many alibis to explain what happened to this school legislation in one of the maddest afternoons of congressional history. The House of Representatives is always unpredictable, but this was special.

It was a combination of 119 Republican and 105 Southern Democrats that defeated the Kelley bill. Only 75 Republicans voted for the bill, as compared to 119 Democrats. It was another case of Republicans deserting President Eisenhower, who had wanted a school aid bill passed this year.

THE BEST EXPLANATION immediately available for the Republican position was the traditional conservative point of view which opposes federal aid of any kind for public schools.

This is in line with the old argument that education is a local responsibility and the federal government should stay out of it. This is the U. S. Chamber of Commerce position. It won again. So any community that wants more or better schools now knows it will have to pay for them itself, 100 per cent.

Southern Democrats on the other hand were afraid of the amendment introduced by Rev. Adam Clayton Powell (D-NY). It would have barred federal school construction grants to states not in compliance with the Supreme Court decision outlawing segregation in public schools.

The House passed, and then on a technicality rejected a first version of the Powell amendment, then passed a milder substitute. The apparent purpose was merely to insure that the whole bill would be killed on the final vote. The trick worked.

IF PRESIDENT EISENHOWER was in Washington and fully active, it is considered there might be a chance of salvaging something out of this wreckage. By long distance, remote control through the White House staff, it is considered next to impossible.

Secy. of Health, Education and Welfare Marion B. Folsom, while thoroughly competent and in full support of the President's program, has not been on his job long enough to have developed any enthusiastic congressional support.

Technically, there are Senate bills which could be dusted off and pushed. Republican Senators Smith (NJ), Duff (Pa) and Case (NJ) have introduced a school aid bill which is far more acceptable to the Eisenhower administration than the now dead duck Kelley bill. And while President Eisenhower had declared the Powell amendment was acceptable to him, for those that might want it, there is a milder version before the Senate. It was introduced by Sen. Herbert H. Lehman (D-NY).

BUT IT IS seldom, if ever, that legislation killed in one House of Congress can be revived in the other and forced through the same session of Congress.

Senate Majority Leader Lyndon Johnson (D-Tex) had put a school aid bill on the list of legislation he wanted Congress to pass this year, to bolster the Democratic record.

But even if a bill could be pushed through the Senate in pushed through the Senate in the next week or two it would then have to go to the House Education and Labor Committee for new hearings.

Remembering all the trouble there was to get the Kelley bill out of this committee and through the Rules committee of the House, the chances of getting any further action there this year are considered too dim to make the effort worth while.

Fishy Story

Jonesville, S. C., (AP)—James Littlejohn said he was fishing in the Catawba River when he saw an eagle swoop down and scoop up a large fish. As the eagle flew off with his prey, a much larger eagle appeared and attempted to take the fish from it. Both flew to a tree to settle the matter but Littlejohn didn't say which eagle got the fish.

Today in National Affairs

Approval by Reds Is Held Problem for Both Parties

By DAVID LAWRENCE

Washington, July 12 — The Democrats in Congress the other day gave vent to some righteous indignation about a staff memorandum sent out by the Senate Republican Policy Committee with the headline: "Communist party pleads for Democrats to win." Several Republican senators disavowed the memorandum and condemned it.

But now the Republicans are protesting because Representative Rooney of New York, Democrat, read to the House of Representatives on Wednesday a news report from London quoting Jacob Malik, the Soviet ambassador there, as saying: "I'm for Eisenhower. The people of Europe know him and like him. We can do business with President Eisenhower."

Representative Charles Halleck, Republican leader of the House, said "shame on you" to Mr. Rooney and generally condemned the tactic. No Democratic leaders have disavowed it.

But one wonders why all the excitement over what the communists think about an American presidential election. The Senate Republican Policy Committee memorandum was also made up of quotations from published news reports which stated that the Illinois chairman of the Communist party had brought in a recommendation to his fellow communists to help support the Democratic party in the 1956 election.

THE THEORY that the American people will be persuaded to believe that the communists can influence the outcome of an American election is, of course, not a new one. President Harry S. Truman, campaigning in 1948 for re-election, said in a speech in Oklahoma City on September 28:

"I charge finally that, in all this they (the Republicans) have not hurt the Communist party one bit. They have helped it. The fact of the matter is that the Republican party is unwittingly the ally of the communists in this country. This is clearly shown in the election record of the Communist party. . .

"The Communists want a Republican administration because they think that its reactionary policies will lead to the confusion and strife on which communism thrives. . .

"Here is something for every American to think about. Why have the Communists lined up solidly to help put the Republican President in the White House. Why do they want a Republican victory? Could it be that their position is now so weak, under a Democratic administration, that their only hope is in a change? Could it be that they are counting on a Republican administration to produce another economic crash which would play into the hands of communism? Think that one over."

NEARLY A MONTH later at Boston, on October 27, Mr. Truman in a campaign speech said:

"Now, my friends, the truth of the matter is the Communists are doing all they can to defeat me and help my Republican opponents."

Mr. Truman in the 1952 campaign went a step further and virtually accused General Eisenhower of accepting Nazism. Mr. Truman said in a speech in New York in October 1952:

"He (General Eisenhower) has had an attack of moral blindness, for today he is willing to accept the very practices that identified the so-called 'master race,' although he took a leading part in liberating Europe from their domination. . . .

"Anti-Semitism, anti-Catholicism, and anti-foreignism grow only in concealment. They have hidden themselves within the Republican party for years."

In that same campaign, Governor Stevenson, the Democratic nominee, in a speech at Boston on October 25, 1952, indicated a whole group of Republicans in this manner:

"They (the Republicans) have voted for policies which would encourage Soviet aggression and against policies which would check it. On these crucial issues of foreign policy, in short, the old guard has voted the straight party line—and I don't mean the Republican party."

Mr. Stevenson's reference to a "straight party line" was taken generally at the time to mean, of course, the Communist party line, since the words "party line" are usually associated with the policies that the Communists employ in indoctrinating their members or their allies or their dupes.

WHAT THE SENATE Republican policy committee staff said the other day in their mimeographed announcement was this:

"The official Communist line has now been announced. The Republicans must be defeated and all support thrown to the Democrats. A Democratic party victory is essential. This news has been percolating down to party members for some days."

The American people, however, will make up their own minds as to which party is doing better service for the Communist cause. When the legislative record of the present Congress is written, it will be found that many Democrats and many Republicans wanted to keep the Communists out of all positions in the government of the United States — both "sensitive" and "non-sensitive." It will be interesting to see whether the Republican or Democratic leadership blocked or aided passage of legislation looking to the extermination of Communists from any government position. That will be the acid test of which party, if any, is "soft on communism."

AS PEGLER SEES IT

By WESTBROOK PEGLER

San Diego, July 11—The tall, flat-bellied man at Mrs. Harry Lavender's holiday pouring was, at a horseback estimate, the most promising citizen in public life, a freshman Senator who has shown courage in risky situations and made a strong reputation for ability and character.

This was Barry Goldwater, the Republican Senator from Arizona, usually a Democratic state but overrun now with new pioneers who might be anything. The Republicans hope to win them. They are hoping against precedent because these are the people whom Roosevelt called "little." On past performances they respond to free blankets, canned goods and "security" checks.

Barry's family pioneered in Arizona and the name is associated with a department store in Phoenix. Barry, however, pays little attention to the store, for he has been diligent in politics from the precinct up for a long time. He is now 47. He has been a reserve officer for 27 years, he spent five years in the Air Force in the war, all the way from Delaware to India, and he has flown every type of Air Force plane we have had in the last 15 years except the new, swifter fighters. He has a mission to fly an eight-hour assignment in a B-52 when he reports for his regular two weeks with the Air Force National Guard this summer. He holds the rank of colonel.

Mrs. Lavender is the widow of a great copper miner, Harrison M. Lavender, who as a little boy was taken by his elder brother to live over a saloon and gambling room in a mining camp in Colorado. They were orphans. Harry wore a grey derby given him by a faro dealer and ordered steak and fried potatoes for breakfast until Miss Mary Dempsey, the waitress, pointed out runty, weedy characters who always ate steak and fried potatoes for breakfast. So Harry ate oatmeal, and twelve years ago, the Lavenders called on Mary Dempsey in a hospital in Denver. Her oatmeal formula had been vindicated.

He was a huge man, hard as the mountains which he had nibbled away at Morenci, Ajo and Bisbee, and sensitive, honorable and fiercely patriotic.

The Goldwaters and Mrs. Lavender still run over to borrow a cup of sugar, milk or medicinal spirits. Like many others from across the mountains, the Goldwaters have a summer house in La Jolla, Calif., a settlement of admirals, Marine brigadiers and widows.

Few public men have fought predatory unions and political unioneers as aggressively as Barry. He disdained Petrillo and other paltry game and drew a bead on Walter Reuther.

"Reuther is using union money, taken by compulsion, to promote the interests of the Democratic party," he said. "A poll not long ago showed that 55 per cent of the union members want to vote for Ike and this fellow is using their own money to frustrate their own political interests. He says he is spending this money to educate these people. Well, they don't need any lessons in citizenship from a man who went to Soviet Russia and found more to admire there than he had found here. He seems determined to take over the Democratic party or start one of his own with money taken from these American citizens by force. I am against compulsory membership in any guise and against the use of union money for any political campaign and the Republicans will stop him."

Barry is not exactly pioneering. Cecil De Mille gave up a rich radio practice rather than pay a political assessment of just $1 to a union. The union put him off the air. The open-shop campaign was going long before Barry was elected, but, somehow, he made these issues his very own, as though he had discovered them. Tom Dewey, thoroughly schooled in the perfidies of unionism, surrendered in 1944 acknowledged the vicious old Wagner Act as the permanent law of the land. That may account for his hatefulness toward Bob Taft, who painted his name large on the act of repudiation six years later.

Again, Barry showed courage and independence when he spat in the eye of the palace guard by voting against censure of Joe McCarthy. This was an issue of principle, and it earned him the loyal respect of Welker, Jenner and other dedicated red-baiters who know that the real authors of the Joe-must-go campaign were conspirators in New York. Ike was just the agent of their design.

Barry went to Staunton Military Academy and spent one year in the University of Arizona. He has hunted deer, brown bear and javelina, the wild pig of the Arizona mountains, fished the rivers and streams, and traveled the length of the Grand Canyon repeatedly, a strenuous business needing good legs. He wrote a book about the canyon and at Mrs. Lavender's holiday pour he described from memory the place where the Constellation and the DC-7 were down in a grisly disaster.

Questions—Answers

Q—Why is someone who is successful referred to as "making his mark?"

A—At one time smiths and pottery makers had individual marks which they put on their products. When these marks or brand names became well known, the person had "made his mark."

Q—What novel derives its title from a famous painting of a child by Sir Joshua Reynolds?

A—"The Age of Innocence" by Edith Wharton.

Q—Were there cattle in the New World before the time of Columbus?

A—Columbus, on his second voyage in 1493, seems to have brought the first cattle to America. However, the first reliable record we have is of a number of calves from Santo Domingo, which were landed near Vera Cruz, Mexico, in 1521.

Child Health Clinic

A child health conference conducted by the Ulster County Health Department will be held at the Health Center in Stone Ridge Wednesday, July 18 from 10 a. m. to 12 noon. These clinics are limited to infant and preschool children for the purpose of improving child health through early recognition of defects, advice regarding nutrition, instruction of parents in understanding of growth and development, handling of minor behavior difficulties and the administering of immunizations for smallpox, diphtheria, tetanus and whooping cough.

So They Say..

The light was so bright that even though I was facing the opposite direction and nearly 30 miles away from ground zero I could see right through my arm like an X-ray. My eyes were closed, too.

Premium Books Out for Annual Rhinebeck Fair

Premium books for the 111th Dutchess County Fair, listing prizes of more than $20,000 are being mailed this week to all who exhibited last year in the annual classic at Rhinebeck, according to Samuel H. Morrison, president of the fair. This year's prize list is an all-time record, topping last year's awards by about $1,000.

THE FAIR this year has been extended to six days, opening Aug. 24 and running through Aug. 29.

The largest slice of the fair money will go to the cattle exhibitors this year. Officials have set aside $8,188 for classes in open Holstein, Ayrshire, Guernsey, Aberdeen Angus and Hereford shows.

The 4H Club exhibitors will share another $5,750 in their section of the fair. These young farmers also will compete in many of the open events where they have consistently been in the winners' circle.

The two days of harness racing—Aug. 27 and 28—will find the sulky drivers competing for $3,100 in purses.

THERE ALSO will be three horse shows—a Western Frontier show Aug. 25, a pony show Aug. 26 and an English horse show Aug. 27. The prize list for these has not been compiled.

Other departments and the prize list for each includes poultry $400, sheep $750, fruits $750, vegetables $250, field crops $250, Granges about $700, flowers $319, and arts and crafts $320.

President Morrison said prospective new exhibitors may obtain copies of this year's premium book by writing to Mrs. Joseph Bruyette, Rhinebeck.

Thunderstorms Are Headed Eastward

(By The Associated Press)

Thunderstorms rumbled across areas in the mid-continent today and headed eastward across the Great Lakes into New England.

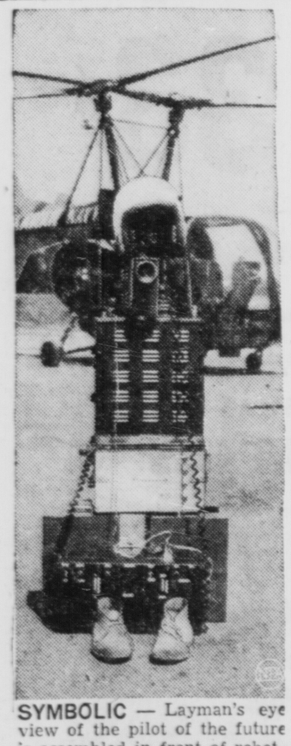

Fair weather prevailed from the lower Ohio Valley and Tennessee eastward to the Atlantic coast and also in most of the Far West.

Scattered thunderstorms were reported during the night from Oklahoma northeastward into the Great Lakes region. Heavy rain fell in many areas, including Omaha, Gladwin, Mich., and in parts of Iowa and Wisconsin. Strong winds and hail hit sections of the Mississippi Valley and Great Lakes region.

In the West, showers and thunderstorms spread over a wide area from the northern plateau region and the Rockies eastward across the plains. Falls were mostly light.

Big Bear

Land's largest flesh eater, the Alaskan brown bear, inhabits Alaska Peninsula's inlets and islands. When standing erect, it towers nine feet, and may weigh three-fourths of a ton.

Demonstration of the craft was recently made at Fort Belvoir, Va., by Kaman Aircraft Corp., which is building a model of the camera-carrying ship for testing by Defense Department. Pilot went along for the ride to conform to regulations, but did not handle the controls.

Plans Swim Across Lake Erie Handcuffed

Buffalo, July 12 (AP)—A 30-year-old endurance swimmer will try to swim 12½ miles across Lake Erie on July 21 while wearing police handcuffs

Wesley R. Struble of Newark, N. Y., father of four children, announced yesterday he would attempt to swim from nearby Angola to Crystal Beach, Ont.

Struble's accomplishments include a 4½-mile swim from Sea Breeze to Ontario Beach park near Rochester in a straight-jacket and a 38-mile swim from Albion to Rochester in the state Barge canal.

German Socialist Party Endorses Ties With Soviet

Munich, Germany, July 12 (AP)—Looking to next year's general election, West Germany's leading opposition Socialist party has solidly endorsed a platform calling for increased contacts with the East.

The Socialists' annual convention approved a series of resolutions urging closer ties with the Soviet bloc as a move toward reunification of Germany.

Party chairman Erich Ollenhauer told the convention a policy of international understanding should be pursued instead of an exchange of sharp words. He said in a keynote speech that chances of a settlement were never better and charged the government of Chancellor Konrad Adenauer with ignoring signs of improvement in the international situation.

Freighter Is Due With Sea Survivors

New York, July 12 (AP) — The Italian freighter Dea Mazzella, survivor of an Atlantic collision in a peasoup fog, is due in Halifax, N. S., today with survivors of the sunken Panamanian freighter Estoril.

The U. S. Coast Guard cutter Casco, which had been shepherding the damaged Italian ship to port, left her at 5:45 a. m. today. The Casco radioed to Coast Guard area headquarters here that the Dea Mazzella had reached coastal waters and no longer needed watching.

The Casco left the Dea Mazzella at the Canadian light vessel Sambro, 18 miles from the Halifax docks.

NEW HURLEY

New Pastor Is Installed Here

New Hurley, July 11—A very impressive service was held in the New Hurley Reformed Church Sunday evening when the Rev. Harvey W. Noorday was ordained and installed as a minister of the church here.

Members and pastors from neighboring churches attended the services, including many friends of the Rev. and Mrs. Noorday.

Those taking part in the services were the Rev. Sylvester Van Oert, minister of the Shawangunk Reformed Church, and president of the Classis of Orange who presided; the Rev. John W. Tysse a former pastor now minister of the Second Reformed Church at Coxsackie, lead the responsive reading; the Rev. Dr. Justin Vander Kelk, professor of Systematic Theology at the New Brunswick Theological Seminary, read the lesson and preached the sermon.

The Rev. Garret Roorda, minister of the First Reformed Church of Walden, delivered the charge to the minister. The Rev. Walter Van Popering of the Wallkill Reformed Church, delivered the charge to the congregation. Elder Crosby Wilkin invested the minister. David Wilkin presided at the organ. The choir rendered the anthem, "Thanks Be to God." The Benediction was pronounced by the Rev. Mr. Noordsy.

A reception was held immediately after the service for the Rev. and Mrs. Noordsy at the Parish Hall.

The choir wore their new gowns for the ordination and installation service. These were purchased by the Ladies' Aid Society.

Village Notes

The New Hurley Guild will meet Saturday at the home of Mrs. Crosby J. Wilkin.

Next Sunday the sacrament of the Lord's Supper will be celebrated in charge of the pastor the Rev. Harvey W. Noordsy. Sunday School at 10:00 a. m. All are welcome.

The Missionary Society will meet at the church hall at noon on Thursday for a covered dish luncheon. A devotional and business meeting will be held in the afternoon with Mrs. Albert Cronk in charge of devotions. The Flower Fund contributions are to be brought to this meeting, and all members who have articles for the layette are to bring them at this time.

Several from here attended the chicken dinner at Shawangunk on July 4.

A very large crowd attended the auction of the estate of the late Nicholas T. Cocks on Saturday. The New Hurley Guild served lunch during the day.

The New Hurley 4-H club held a picnic at the church hall on Thursday afternoon. Mrs. Francis Garrison and Mrs. Duane Dolan were in charge.

Miss Reta Dolan who teaches at the Kendall Central school is spending the summer vacation with her mother, Mrs. Myra Dolan.

The Rev. and Mrs. Fredrick Shield of West Park and Mrs. Marie Laing of Nanuett spent Sunday at the home of their brother and sister-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Wilbur J. VanWyck.

Joan Wilkin has been visiting at the home of her uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. Ned Conklyn at Clintondale.

Mr. and Mrs. George Smith and daughter of Grahamsville were visitors on Saturday at the home of their daughter and family Mr. and Mrs. L. Dolan.

The Rev. and Mrs. Justin Vander Kolk were supper guests of the Rev. and Mrs. Harvey Noordsy on Sunday.

Weekly Food Review

(By The Associated Press)

Turkeys and chuck roast will be the featured items at the meat counter of many of the nation's supermarkets and corner groceries this weekend.

Turkeys once were generally regarded as a special item reserved for holidays and special occasions, but in recent years the birds have become a big summer seller. The theory seems to be that the family can get one hot meal, then several cold meals from the "picking's."

INDICATIONS are that chuck may be featured in future months, too. The fanciest steaks and other choice cuts come from corn-fattened cattle, and farmers reportedly have cut back their feeding operations because of rising corn costs and declining beef prices. Cattle fed solely on grass, however, will soon be more abundant, promising lower prices for the tougher, lower grades of beef.

Most meats, especially pork, will be higher in many areas this weekend. Pork and rib roasts will be up as much as 10 cents in some areas, while lamb and sirloin steak also will be generally higher, by 2 to 6 cents. Frying chickens also are on the upswing, along with eggs in a few areas.

AT THE PRODUCE tables, the outstanding buys appear to be cabbage, just about every variety of lettuce, squash, beets, green onions and escarole. Limes continue to show the most attractive price tags among the citrus fruits in many sections, although some places have lemons listed as bargains.

Generally, however, it's a case of the fruits and vegetables from nearby farms being the best buy for the housewife.

This is particularly true for corn and tomatoes, which are still relatively high and scarce except in some areas. Dry weather has hindered the corn crop in certain places.

Carrots, snap beans, celery, cucumbers and peppers also should be good buys this week, especially in the areas with heavy local supplies of cucumbers and peppers.

PEACHES AND cantaloupes are still a little high generally, but cooking apples are coming into markets in some sections, a reminder to housewives that it's time to make preparations for canning.

Most berries, which have short seasons, are pretty well finished, except for a few areas where local crops are still available. On the other hand, more cherries should be coming to market.

Potatoes are still rising in price generally, which is bad news to housewives and, incidentally, to the potato chip industry.

The potato chippers are caught between higher prices and lower supplies of spuds. Industry sources say, however, that more restaurants are serving chips rather than potatoes cooked on the premises, which means they should sell more chips.

Florida Complains

Sarasota, Fla. (AP) — Du Pont ran a magazine ad for a new fabric, showing a man standing beside a weather map listing a temperature of 105 degrees for Florida. The Sarasota Chamber of Commerce and Florida Development Commission protested indignantly that their state never had such hot weather. W. E. Gordon, Du Pont advertising manager, in a letter to Tod Swalm, chamber manager, said he was sorry.

City Loses Move To Disqualify Att'y Gottfried

Albany, July 12 (AP) — New York city today lost a court move to disqualify Attorney Herman E. Gottfried from representing persons seeking damages from the city in connection with its Delaware water project.

However, in its opinion, the Appellate Division said it was rejecting the city's petition because the court believed the city should have applied to a special term of state supreme court, rather than the Appellate court.

Gottfried, of Margaretville, Delaware county, formerly was employed by New York city and acted for the city in its acquisition of lands and rights for the water project. He resigned in 1950.

The city's board of water supply contended in its petition to the court that there was a relationship between his work for the city and his work for persons making property damage claims.

The Appelate court said its unanimous decision was "without prejudice to petitioners' right to move at special term for the disqualification" of Gottfried.

Degree Required

Yale University's school of nursing was established in 1923 by a gift from the Rockefeller Foundation. It was the first nursing school to require a bachelor's degree for admission.

Variety of Uses

The yucca plant served the prehistoric inhabitants of New Mexico as food, in the making of sandals, cordage, the weaving of baskets, matting, use in cloth, fur cloth, fish nets, head rings and straps, brushes and cradles.

POLIO PICTURE SO FAR—As the first six months of 1956 ended, a "substantial decrease" in polio cases was announced by the U.S. Public Health Service. Newsmap above shows the total number of cases in each state through the week of June 30 against the comparable week of of July 2, 1955. The report said 2654 cases have been reported throughout the nation. There were 3706 during the first half of 1955. Despite the decline, officials said it is still too early to determine whether Salk anti-polio vaccine was an important factor. The figures on paralytic polio are less favorable. The 1397 cases reported so far are only slightly under the 1482 reported during the first six months of 1955.

Boat-Building

away with the local cement and blue stone industries.

The construction of larger vessels at the Hiltebrant yard and the building of large ocean going freighters at the Island Dock yard was then described. Mr. Mabie then described the general decline in the boat building industry locally in the period following this to World War 2 when naval vessels were again constructed in volume in the yards on Rondout creek.

It was mentioned how the first all welded steel vessel was built at the Feeney yard in the late 1940's and how Island Dock had built its first all-welded steel vessel in 1951. It was mentioned how today most of the new vessels constructed are of steel construction and how the yard at Island Dock has built 48 steel vessels over the past five-year period.

A short documentary moving picture of the construction of a steel landing craft at the Island Dock yard was shown to the Financial and Commercial

New York, July 12 (AP)—The stock market was moderately lower early this afternoon after a selling flurry tripped an early rise.

Leading stocks exchanged their minor gains for losses ranging from fractions to around 2 points.

Volume for the day was estimated at around 2,500,000 shares compared with 2,520,000 yesterday.

Steels, motors and chemicals took the worst of the losses as profit-taking held sway following six straight daily advances on average.

Guilty Verdict Is Returned by Jury In Wage Dispute

A city court jury returned a verdict of guilty after trial today of Christine Oliver, 39 Taylor street, who was arrested March 5 on a charge dealing with alleged non-payment of wages.

Sadie Koszlowski, 50, of 650 Delaware avenue, was arrested on a warrant executed by Lt. Robert F. Murphy at police headquarters, and listing a similar charge this morning. She pleaded innocent before City Judge Raymond J. Mino and the case was put over until July 20.

NO LONGER ON VIEW—Looking for all the world like a roll warmer, object, above, is now much too hot for anyone's diet. It's the stainless steel core of the nation's first nuclear reactor specifically designed for industrial research. Built by Atomics International, atomic fission (the splitting of atoms) takes place within the core, which lies at the heart of the reactor, operated by Armour Research Foundation of Illinois Institute of Technology at Chicago, Ill. It's a water-type reactor, with a power capacity potential of 50,000 watts.

De Falco to Tour Europe for Study In Shoe Fitting

Paul De Falco, who has a shoe store at 259 Fair street and one in Poughkeepsie, has left on an extensive summer tour through seven European countries for the purpose of studying footwear and shoe-fitting methods.

While abroad, Mr. De Falco, whose business places are known as De Falco Shoe Stores, will attend the International Congress of Pediatrics at Copenhagen, Denmark. The session is expected to host thousands of pediatricians and orthopedists from all corners of the world.

The journey which began Monday, will take Mr. De Falco through England, France, Switzerland, West Germany, Italy, Austria, in addition to Denmark. There he will survey leading shoe manufacturing and retailing firms.

Mr. De Falco expects to profit through new ideas in construction and fitting of footwear that can contribute to better foot health. He says that an important feature of the trip is "to investigate and study these techniques so that any of their advantages can be applied here."

Of particular importance to the local shoemen at the conference will be the subject of child foot health and footwear. Mr. De Falco has taken a personal interest in this field and is regarded as one of the foremost authorities in scientific shoe fitting in the nation.

Mr. De Falco has been in the shoe business for approximately 30 years. He is a noted lecturer on the subject of foot health and footwear and is one of the most-traveled men in his business.

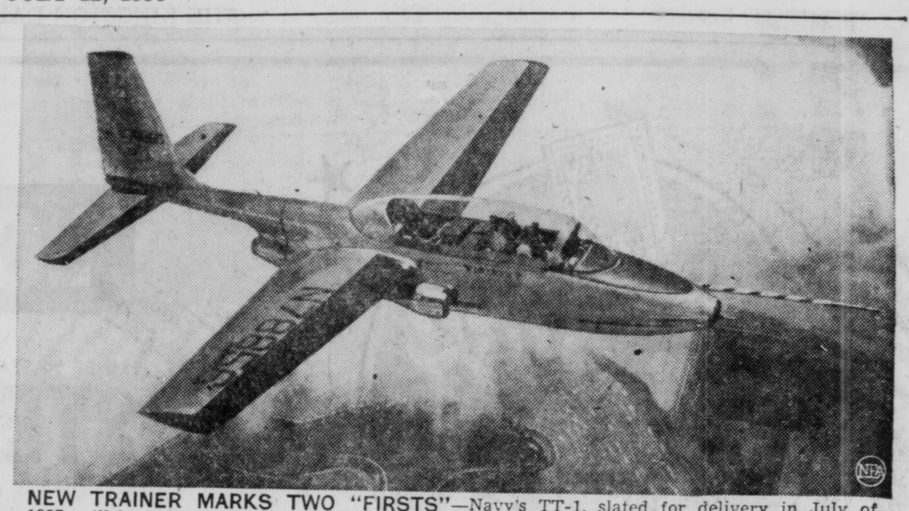

A record 4,758 book titles were published in Sweden in 1955.

Sees End of Pullmans

San Francisco, July 12 (AP)—The man who heads the nation's longest railway system predicts that within 20 years the Pullman car will be extinct and that there will be little, if any, long distance passenger rail travel. The reason, says Donald J. Russell, president of the Southern Pacific Co., is the airplane. He said in an interview yesterday railroads are making a mistake in trying to keep up with the airlines at a time when jet transports capable of speeds up to 1,000 miles an hour are in prospect.

Yacht Gutted by Fire

Honolulu, July 12 (AP)—A 140-foot luxury yacht from Portland, Ore., was gutted by fire yesterday while anchored off Canton Island, 2,000 miles southwest of Hawaii. Mrs. William G. Cooney of Portland said today she received word from her husband, William, 38, through the Civil Aeronautics Administration that all aboard, including a French poodle, are safe. Cooney owns the yacht. The vessel, The Coronia, was salvaging the troop ship President Taylor which ran aground at Canton in 1942.

NEW TRAINER MARKS TWO "FIRSTS"—Navy's TT-1, slated for delivery in July of 1957, will be her first primary jet trainer. Similar to her fighting sisters of the Fleet's air arm in equipment and characteristics, her biggest difference will be one of speed. Maximum speed for the two-seater is in the neighborhood of 300 knots and a low landing speed of 62 knots makes her a craft fit for students who are not ready for "hot," supersonic ships. Second "first" for the craft is that she's a new entrant in America's plane building field. The evaluation order for a quantity of TT-1s is the first military production order for a complete aircraft of its own design for Tempco Aircraft, Dallas, Tex., subcontractors for aircraft assemblies.

Reception Will Honor Retiring New Paltz Vicar

The Rev. J. Marshall Wilson, vicar of St. Andrew's Episcopal Mission at New Paltz, will be honored at a farewell reception on the occasion of his retirement from the active ministry.

The reception, to which a large number of parishioners and friends of the congregation are expected to attend, will be held at the church Sunday from 4 to 6 p. m.

Father and Mrs. Wilson are leaving at the end of July when they will move to East Orange, N. J., where they plan to live.

During the 10 years that Father Wilson has served as vicar of the New Paltz parish, the physical plant of the Mission has been enlarged and a considerable amount of repair work has been completed. A new organ was acquired and a choir created under the direction of Mrs. George Bond.

26 Persons Hurt While Watching York, Pa., Fire

York, Pa., July 12 (AP)—At least 26 persons watching a fire last night were injured when gas fumes seeping through the area were set ablaze and exploded.

Fire engine driver Edward Horn said "the explosion in the middle of the crowd sounded like a big 'puff' and suddenly you could see people laying on the ground and others moving around with their clothes on fire."

OTHERS IN the crowd rolled those with flaming clothes on the ground to extinguish the flames. "It was remarkable, but there was no panic," said Horn.

York hospital said it had treated 26 persons for burns or for the effects of inhaling gas. Eleven were held overnight in the hospital and all were reported in satisfactory condition.

THE ORIGINAL fire began as two men attempted to remove bottled gas tanks from aside a building housing the Delthia Athletic Assn. Gas seeping from a tank exploded, injuring one of the men. The building was not damaged.

Firemen were summoned and they had extinguished the first gas blaze when fumes seeping among the estimated 50 spectators who had come to the scene were apparently set afire by someone lighting a cigarette.

Expect First Child

London, July 12 (AP)—Vivien Leigh and Sir Laurence Olivier, Britain's most famous acting couple, today announced they are expecting their first baby in November. They have been married 16 years. Miss Leigh, 42, will soon leave the cast of Noel Coward's play "South Sea Bubble." She has a 22-year-old daughter by her first marriage to London lawyer Herbert Leigh Holman. Sir Laurence, 49, has a 21-year-old son by his previous marriage to actress Jill Esmond.

New Fig Tree

Berkeley, Calif. (AP)—A 30-year fig breeding program has produced a promising new hybrid variety—the Conadria. The trees have been planted and tested in seven areas in the state. The University of California reports the new variety shows promise for both the fresh and dried markets. The name is a combination of Adriatic and Condit.

HIGHLAND NEWS

Highland, July 11 — Dr. Carl Foster Meekins will vacation from July 14 to 28 and in that interval his office will be closed.

With his son Robert of Washington, D. C., and friends from Poughkeepsie, the party will go up the Hudson in the doctor's boat, through the canal into Lake Champlain and on into Canada.

HE'LL BE 98 FRIDAY—Ezra Griffin, who'll be 98 July 13, is hale and hearty, living a retired life at the home of his daughter, Mrs. Harry J. Beatty, Beatty Farms, Hurley avenue. A native of Big Indian, he worked as a carpenter, also as a brakeman on the old Ulster & Delaware Railroad. Mrs. Beatty, when asked if her father had a formula for longevity, said, "If he has we'd like to know it." How's his health? "Not an ache or a pain," he laughed. (Freeman photo).

Newkirk Likely

in Albany. He has held the position since 1954.

Prior to becoming the GOP candidate for mayor in 1947. Mr. Newkirk was employed as a salesman by National Buscuit Co. He joined the firm in 1925, and was within three year of retiring on pension.

Urged by Republican leaders to step into the political limelight as the party's candidate for mayor, he took a leave from the firm. After his second election, he chose to leave the company for a third term and was reelected.

After that he was appointed to the state office.

Prior to serving as mayor, Mr. Newkirk represented the Second ward of Kingston in the Common Council from January 1932 to December 1945. From January 1946 to December 1947, he was supervisor of the ward.

Mr. Newkirk was born in Centerville, Sullivan county, and removed to Ulster county at the age of six months. He lived near Ellenville until coming to Kingston in 1922. He has resided here ever since.

Mrs. Newkirk is the former Marie J. Hopper. A daughter Beatrice is a college student.

Democrats May

in the Republican-controlled Senate Finance Committee.

Democratic Gov. Harriman sent the legislature a special message urging enactmment of the measure. Nevertheless, the committee killed the bill on the ground it needed further study. Harriman termed the action "shocking" and cried "giveaway" and "special interest."

Democrats now indicate they will use the incident in the November elections, when all seats in the legislature will be open to contest.

The latest issue of the "Democratic Star," a party organ, carries an article headlined "GOP Phone Rate Failure May Cost Users $50 Million." It is accompanied by a cartoon depicting a smiling "phone lobby" as having made "good connections" with the legislature.

This approach may cost the Republicans some votes. But the argument is not nearly so damaging as it might be if the company should press for a prompt re-hearing, win its case and raise rates—before the election.

The company explains publicly that it is holding up while it prepares new evidence to present at the re-hearing. But at least one New York Telephone official has admitted privately that the plan is to do nothing until after the election.

Meanwhile, in an entirely separate action, the company has won a 15-million-dollar annual increase in rates granted by the PSC to offset employe pay boosts and increases in other expenses. No one has found any political facets to that one.

Leaders, Union Will Meet Today On Steel Strike

Pittsburgh, July 12 (AP)—Leaders of three of the nation's top basic steel producers and the United Steelworkers Union gathered today for their first negotiating session (4 p. m., EDT) since the nationwide steel strike started 12 days ago.

Government mediators, who prodded both sides to get together at the bargaining table, came here from Washington to sit in on the sessions.

Meanwhile, unemployment continued to mount in allied industries. In addition to the 650,000 striking USW members, 72,770 workers in other industries have been furloughed. Hardest hit are railroads and the coal industry.

Neither union nor industry gave any indication they would come up with counter offers at today's session which was arranged by Joseph F. Finnegan, director of the Federal Mediation and Conciliation Service..

New Windsor Mishap Fatal to One Man

Newburgh, N. Y., July 12 (AP)—One man was killed and three other persons were injured last night when an auto failed to negotiate a curve, went off the road and hit a pile of rocks in nearby New Windsor.

Killed was Robert Steven Kubina, 23, of Union avenue, New Windsor. He was thrown out of the rear window and pinned under the gasoline tank.

Police said William Hollenbeck, 19, of Newburgh, was at the wheel of his father's sedan. The driver and two passengers were injured.

Dulles in Plea For Aid Funds

Washington, July 12 (AP)—Secretary of State Dulles appealed today to the Senate Appropriations Committee to increase House-voted funds for foreign military and economic aid by upwards of 400 million dollars.

He was joined in this request by Adm. Arthur W. Radford, chairman of the joint chief of staff.

The two appeared at a closed committee session to ask that the appropriations for assistance to free nations be increased from the $3,600,000,000 voted by the House yesterday to $4,014,000,000, the full amount included in a foreign aid authorizations measure previously passed by both Houses.

Dulles did not have a prepared statement as he entered the committee room, but told reporters he was appealing for "the full amount of the authorization bill."

The committee promised to release a summary of his testimony later.

President Eisenhower's foreign aid program has been hard hit in Congress.

Do You Remember

By SOPHIE MILLER

One reader of this column, Edward Hauperich of Browning Terrace, Kingston, is a former Albany man, and he likes to cut out items from the Albany Times Union and send them to me. One item is called "Early Dutch Made Bricks." "The Dutch settlers were natural-born makers of brick and tile, by the old country background." It seems they found the Fort Orange countryside underlaid with a fine variety of clay just right for bricks and pottery. It seems the prehistoric presence of glacially-dammed Lake Albany made that clay possible. So the item says. "Bricks were being made here by the Dutch as early as 1656 by Johande Hulter."

The brickyards of the vicinity really came into their own during the 1800's, when billions of bricks were made in as many as 40 brickyards up and down the Hudson river. They were shipped by huge barge-loads down the Hudson to a regular brick market in New York. The glacial left-overs of the Albany terrain also supplied a rare type of clay known as 'slip-clay' or 'lady-clay' which proved valuable in glazing processes. The Albany molding-sands, too, grew into an industry which still operate, because of their special usefulness in the making of fine metal castings." Of course this all seems to pertain to Albany and vacinity, but we make some fine brick right here in Ulster county and the old Senate House Museum still boasts of the large bricks which were brought right from Holland.

Another item tells about Seward's travel modes in 1856. William H. Seward who had been governor of the state and also U. S. senator, but his name goes down in history, as Abraham Lincoln's secretary of state and his connection with the purchase of Alaska from Russia. Seward's home was in Auburn back in 1856 and the Albany Morning Times wrote about his trips to Albany. It seems he liked to travel in the baggage cars for various reasons. One was to avoid politicians and those bound for Saratoga Springs, both of which he considered bores. Mr. Seward also liked to smoke, and by traveling with the baggage he could enjoy this luxury, and think out the problems of the country and state without giving offense to anyone. He always arrived looking fresh and with much zest and vigor, and had a cheerful disposition.

I do see the Albany paper from time to time, but most of all I like items about our own vicinity, something the old timers around here remember or hear about. The other day, Gurnsey Burger, local policeman brought me down a stack of old local postal cards. He had some of the Hudson-Fulton celebration of 1909, a large number of various shots of Kingston Point Park, also various streets of Kingston, going back perhaps a quarter of a century. I have never seen such a collection. I wish I had the time and my good magnifying glass to go over each one at my leisure for they are museum items, many just cannot be duplicated. Mr. Burger says he has many more of various scenes up to Kerhonkson and all around there. There were many local postal cards out on the Hudson-Fulton celebration but I have seen perhaps one or two. I do not know what happened to all the old postal cards of streets, they too vanished. Years ago, the first thing folks down on the Dayline boats did was to sit down in the 'writing room' and send all their friends cards. Folks bought 10 and 20 cards when going anywhere. Today it isn't done. The greeting card seems to have taken the place of the picture postal card.

SWEETY PIE — By Nadine Seltzer

"How about locking us up? We want to see if this jail is escape-proof!"

Will Cut Speed Limit

Albany, N. Y., July 12 (AP)—The State Traffic Commission plans to cut from 50 to 30 miles an hour the maximum legal speed on a Nassau hill where five persons were killed in an automobile-truck crash June 27. John W. Johnson, state public works superintendent, outlined yesterday steps he said his department and the traffic commission would take to improve conditions on Route 20, on which the hill is situated.

May Close Lyons Jail

New York, July 12 (AP)—The correction commission says it will close the Wayne county jail at Lyons unless the county replaces or improves it. Commission Chairman Thomas J. McHugh said county authorities had said they would carry out commission recommendations on the jail "within their ability." McHugh said he was not sure what the officials meant by that answer.

Hearing Resumes In Pastor's Case

Miami, Fla., July 12 (AP) — Circuit Court hearing resumes today of testimony by Mrs. Phyliss Northcott about conduct of her divorce-seeking husband, the Rev. Thomas Graham Northcott.

The Presbyterian clergyman's 35-year-old wife was scheduled for cross-examination by counsel for Northcott, 36.

Mrs. Northcott has testified that Mrs. Zeneida Peck, a 43-year-old wealthy parishioner of the Staten Island, N. Y., church which Northcott served, had declared in 1954 that she "loved Tom" and intended to have him. Mrs. Northcott testified also that Mrs. Peck had admitted spending a week with the minister in the Park Plaza hotel in Toronto in August, 1954, while the Northcott family was summering at its Minden, Ont., cottages.

The minister's wife said Northcott returned to the cottage saying he had visited mutual friends, but they told her they "hadn't seen Tom in years." Later, Mrs. Northcott said, her husband admitted that he was with Mrs. Peck.

Two Return From Trip to Europe

Miss Katherine M. Murphy, executive secretary of the Ulster County TB and Health Association and Miss Marguerite Quick, of the Board of Elections office, returned Saturday on the Cunard liner Britannic from a vacation trip in Europe.

They report an interesting tour which took them by way of the Mediterranean to Italy, Switzerland, France, Belgium, Holland and England.

In Amsterdam they met Mr. and Mrs. J. Ellis Briggs of Kingston, and Mr. and Mrs. Ipe Holscher, formerly of High Falls, who are also touring several countries in Europe.

Bedulski Gets Credit For Time Served

Chester Bedulski, charged with grand larceny, second degree, was given 150 days in the county jail Wednesday in County Court when a plea of guilty to that charge was entered by his counsel, Louis DiDonna. Bedulski is presently under medical care at Kingston Hospital. He is charged with larceny from the Klugo Furniture Company Feb. 11, 1956. He has already served 150 days in jail and was given credit for that time.

Raymond K. (Buddy) Watts, charged with grand larceny, second degree, for the alleged taking of a car from Edward Young, Milton, on July 20, 1955, entered a plea of innocent. Seymour Werbalowsky was assigned as counsel.

Court recessed until 10 a. m. Friday.

Bell Ringer

Reading, Pa. (AP)—Six-year-old Susan Loose of nearby Wyomissing Hills figured something was wrong when she heard bells ringing every time she breathed. The girl was rushed to Reading hospital where physicians removed a small bell from her throat. She had accidentally swallowed it while playing.

Named Harriman Aide

Chicago, July 12 (AP)—Emery E. Jacobs, an Oklahoma wheat farmer, was named director of Gov. Averell Harriman's campaign for farm delegates at the Democratic National Convention. Lloyd Benefield, the New York governor's national campaign director, announced the appointment. Jacobs, who is assistant to James G. Patton, head of the National Farmers Union, said he plans an immediate campaign to contact farm leaders and farm delegates on behalf of the Harriman candidacy.

Nasser, Tito to Confer

Cairo, Egypt, July 12 (AP)—President Gamal Abdel Nasser left by plane today for an eight-day state visit to Yugoslavia. The major event of his trip will be a conference next week with President Tito and Indian Prime Minister Nehru. Nasser's trip returns the visit Tito made to Egypt last December. The three government leaders are expected to meet July 17-18 on the island of Brioni. Egypt's Middle East News Agency said earlier this week the top subject of their discussions will be efforts by countries still under foreign domination to achieve full independence.

Still Without Gas

St. Louis, July 12 (AP)—Missouri today resumed its effort to get 2,200 St. Louis gas strikers back on the job by court order. The strikers, out 12 days now, have defied a state law designed to prevent strikes against public utilities. Allen R. Burgess, vice-president of Laclede Gas Co. testified their absence created "a very hazardous condition." He reported escaping gas from broken mains twice had caught fire in sewers. Between 18,000 and 20,000 customers in St. Louis and St. Louis county were without gas for their stoves, water heaters and other appliances.

Nussbaum, Hogan Are Elected to New School Posts

A budget of $88,050 was approved by the voters of Union Free District No. 5, town of Hurley Tuesday night when 58 resident of the West Hurley area attended and 47 votes were cast.

Clarence A. Anderson acted as chairman.

Robert Nussbaum, present chairman of the board of education, was elected for a term of two years and James J. Hogan was elected for a three year term.

The issue of consolidation was not discussed at the meeting. Both Kingston High School and Onteora was approved as the high school to which pupils of the district might go.

Included in the budget was an item of $5,000 to augment the teaching staff. Two teachers will be added to the staff next fall, bringing the number of teachers to seven. One of the additional teachers will be a special instruction teacher, the district being one of the first in this area to engage such an instructor. In the budget is also the sum of $2,500 to repair the school fence and complete putting the school grounds in shape.

Present members of the board are Clayton W. Vredenburgh, James J. Hogan, Robert Nussbaum principal, James T. McCarty, clerk. Clarence Ostrander is collector and Arthur E. Rice, treasurer.

Long Island Man Is Hurt in Rochester

A Valley Stream, L. I., man was injured today in a one-car accident on Shangri-La road, about three miles west of Route 209, town of Rochester, Ellenville state police reported.

Injured was Bruce Arthur Mirman, 24, of 560 DuBois avenue, who was traveling east in a 1950 sedan owned by Loretta Mirman, same address. He suffered shock and a contusion of the neck, troopers said, and was taken to Ellenville Memorial Hospital for treatment and X-rays.

Troopers said Mr. Mirman "blacked out," went off the north shoulder of the road and the right front end of the car struck a tree.

Time of the accident was set at 8:50 a. m.

Entry Is Reported

Police were notified at 12:39 a. m., today that the Royal Tire building on Railroad avenue had been entered. A check of the building indicated that desk drawers had been tampered with, but nothing was reported missing. Officers William Slover Gerard McCloskey, Everett Emmick and Harry Templaar were sent to the building as soon as police headquarters received the report.

Fred Marriott was credited in 1906 with being the first man to drive a car more than two miles a minute.

Czechs Say No Truth to Report Of Unrest Story

Vienna, Austria, July 12 (AP)—Reports of a "Poznan-like" strike and demonstration in the Czechoslovak city of Gottwaldov were published by West German newspapers today. Czech authorities reached by telephone from Vienna denied them.

THE REPORTS, printed chiefly in Bonn and Munich, declared 4 persons were killed, 13 injured and 30 arrested in unrest at a shoe factory and elsewhere in Gottwaldov, a Moravian industrial center of a half million population that was known as Zlin before the Communists took over Czechoslovakia.

A spokesman at police headquarters in Gottwaldov said: "This is not true. There is no unrest in Gottwaldov or anywhere else in Moravia. Come and see for yourself."

THERE WERE similar denials from a Communist committeeman of the city, where Thomas Bata established a worldwide shoe export industry in 1913, and from the Czechoslovak interior ministry.

It was two weeks ago that Polish workers staged bread-and-freedom demonstration in Poznan, setting off a revolt in which Poland's Red government admitted 48 persons were killed and 270 wounded. From a compilation of eyewitness accounts, western diplomats estimate close to 1,000 perished.

Severe Earth Shocks

Athens, Greece, July 9 (AP)—The Aegean Islands were rocked today by severe earth shocks. Heavy damage and a number of casualties were reported on the volcanic island of Thera (Santorini). The police chief on the Aegean Island of Syros telephoned that "Santorini volcano erupted." He said many houses and buildings had collapsed and that there was an unspecified number of casualties.

Harriman Feels He's Best One to Halt Communism

Washington, July 12 (AP)—Gov. Averell Harriman of New York described himself today as "the only fellow in the position to be a candidate for President" who could not be accused of having ever been "soft on communism."

"NO ONE can pin the soft-on-the communism label on me," Harriman told Democratic first term members of the House at a breakfast meeting.

Harriman did not name Adlai E. Stevenson, front-running candidate for the Democratic presidential nomination, or any of his other potential rivals for that nomination.

He made clear, however, that he included President Eisenhower in the category of candidates who have been "soft on communism" at one time or another.

He said he warned of the Communist menace "at times when that was very popular."

Warming up in his criticism of the man he called "Candidate Eisenhower," Harriman again gestured toward the President's picture, and said:

"IT IS fantastic that we have permitted this fellow here to keep aloof from the turmoil of politics. Here he is now sitting on a cloud . . .

"So far as I'm concerned there is only one thing he is proficient in. He knows the old army game, how to assume for himself credit for things that go his way and slough off blame for things that go wrong."

Katrine School District Approves $140,702 Budget

Qualified voters of Union Free School District No. 4, Lake Katrine, unanimously approved a budget of $140,702.30 at the annual school meeting held Tuesday evening at the Lake Katrine Grange Hall.

William Burke, of Lake Katrine, was elected to a three-year term as a member of the Board of Education. He succeeds Parran A. Gates whose term expired. Mrs. Mary Lamaro, of Route 1, Kingston, was elected to a three-year term to succeed herself.

A REPORT of the trustees was given by Joseph J. Benjamin, board member, who outlined some of the developments in the school district during the last year. These included the construction of a new school, increased enrollment, purchase of new equipment, an increase in the teaching staff, and additions to the curriculum, including art and music.

Mrs. Margaret Menger, tax collector, made her annual report and Daniel Morehouse read the treasurer's report.

PRESENTATION of estimated expenses for the coming year was made by Mr. Benjamin and following a discussion the budget was unanimously approved.

A proposal to remove the old wooden school house was passed by a vote of 78 to 12 and the trustees were authorized to advertise for bids for the removal.

THE DISTRICT voted to contract with the City of Kingston to send seventh through 12th grade pupils to the Myron J. Michael School and to send parochial school children to St. Joseph's, St. Mary's and St. Ursula's Academy. Transportation will be provided to these schools, it was reported.

Clarence Johnson, district superintendent discussed the state aid situation.

275 New Polio Cases

Washington, July 12 (AP)—The Public Health Service said today 275 polio cases were reported last week, 19 more than the preceding week but 130 fewer than the corresponding week last year. Of the new cases, 129 were listed as being of the paralytic type. In the comparable week last year, there were 170 paralytic type cases. For the disease year which begins in April, there have been 2,931 cases against 3,048 in the similar period last year.

MODENA NEWS

Modena, July 11—The regular meeting of the Woman's Society of Christian Service of the Modena Methodist Church was held Thursday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Earl B. DeWitt Sr. Those present were Mrs. Myron L. Shultis of Kingston, Mrs. Ira Hyatt, Mrs. Eldred Smith, Mrs. John E. Swords, Miss Emma Behm, Mrs. Lois Black, Mrs. Joseph E. Hasbrouck, Mrs. Anna Tonnesen, Mrs. Anna L. Miller, Mrs. Emory Conklin, Mrs. Fred Bernard and the hostess, Mrs. DeWitt. The next meeting, scheduled for Thursday, Aug. 2 at 2:30 p. m., will be at the home of Mrs. Ira Hyatt when final arrangements will be made for the annual Methodist Church fair and supper to be held Wednesday, Aug. 8, at the Hasbrouck Memorial Hall.

The Modena Rural Cemetery Association met recently and conducted a business meeting for the purpose of electing an officer replacing Eber H. Coy, who has moved to another locality.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Smith are the parents of a son, Daryl Stephen, born Friday, July 6, at St. Francis Hospital, Poughkeepsie. The Smith's have an older son, Charles Howard.

Local students attending the Wallkill Central School, whose names appeared on the honor roll at the marking of the fourth quarter were Wayne Smith and Patrick Adams.

Mr. and Mrs. Earl B. DeWitt Sr., visited Mr. and Mrs. George Gunderman and family at Coxsackie, on Sunday. Robert DeWitt returned home at this time, and Linda Gunderman came for a visit with relatives here and in New Hurley.

Miss Genevieve Reila, of Woodstock, was a recent guest of Miss Mary Lou DuBois.

Miss Glennie MM. Wager spent the past weekend with Mr. and Mrs. S. L. Bernard and family of Poughkeepsie.

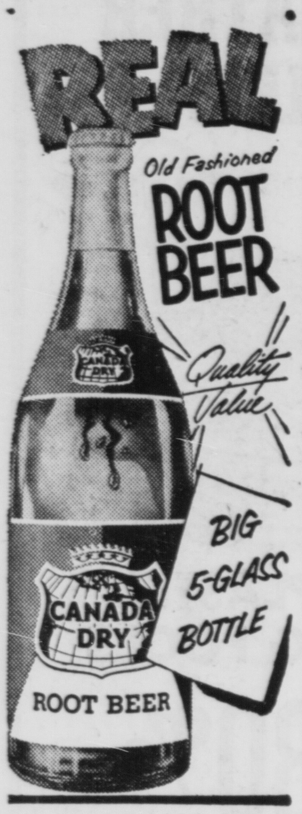

Mrs. Lester I. Arnold, secretary of the Ulster County Home Demonstration department executive committee attended a luncheon meeting at the home of the chairman, Mrs. Francis Davenport, at Stone Ridge, recently. Other committtte members attending were Mrs. Lillian Courter, Mrs. Lois Black and Mrs. Frank M. Coy.

Mrs. Myron L. Shultis, of Kingston, was a guest of Mrs. Anna L. Miller last week and attended the wedding of Miss Jean Marie Wells, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Floyd B. Wells of Modena to Donald Mulvihill, son of Mr. and Mrs. Michael Mulvihill of Red Hook, which was held Saturday, July 7, at the Modena Methodist Church.

Mrs. Betty Espie and Miss Marilyn Cole of Pleasant Valley and Hopewell Junction, were recent guests of Miss Mary Lou DuBois, and they attended a clambake at Sportsmen's Park, Rosendale, Sunday.

Mrs. Freston J. Paltridge spent Monday in Poughkeepsie with her daughter, Mrs. S. L. Bernard and family.

Mrs. Pearl Ruger of Poughkeepsie, formerly of Modena, was married on Sunday July 8, to John Bordi Jr., of Highland. Mr. and Mrs. Bordi will make their home in Highland.

Reports Motor Stolen

Police were notified at 10:18 p. m., Tuesday by Theodore Gallop of Green street, that a motor had been taken from his boat moored near the R. Lenahan boatyard. Officers William Slover and Gerard McCloskey investigated and reported that the motor had been pushed off the craft into the Rondout creek. It was recovered, but a gas tank, and tools were reported missing, and the canvas boat cover was ripped.

Violence Breaks Out in Algiers; Four Are Slain

Algiers, Algeria, July 12 (AP)—Nationalist violence erupted anew in Algiers last night, resulting in the deaths of three rebels and one French soldier. Seven other persons were wounded in random attacks throughout the city.

Bombs were lobbed into crowded cafes, and submachine-guns chattered from speeding cars in a night of gangsterlike violence.

A big bomb blew out all the windows of the Algiers Opera House those in neighboring honses.

Nationalists sped past a military post in a small car, spraying the guards with machinegun fire. One guard was killed and two wounded. The French fired back killing one rebel.

Four Europeans were wounded severely in a downtown cafe when Arabs threw a flaming Molotov cocktail into the building. Two rebels accused of tossing the bomb were captured. One was wounded by police fire.

Two men in a speeding motor scooter lobbed a grenade at a cafe terrace. It fell to the sidewalk and partially destroyed a cab. A police patrol chased the pair and killed both.

fresh!

...as a loaf of williams bread!

Just lift a loaf of williams white between your fingers. See what we mean! It couldn't be softer or lighter. The reason's in the flour. We send 'way out to two small family-flour-mills in Kansas and Minnesota for our bread flour, and it's this rich, old-fashioned family-mill flour that keeps williams so wonderfully fresh—and delicious. And remember ... williams cakes and rolls and other breads are all just as fresh and delicious, too.

$1.25 Hour Wage Sought for State Laundry Workers

Buffalo, N. Y., July 12 (AP)—Labor officials have called for a minimum wage of $1.25 an hour for the 38,300 laundry workers in the state.

But other witnesses at a hearing on minimum wage standards in the industry here yesterday opposed an increase in the minimums.

AT A HEARING earlier yesterday in Rochester, laundry executives said some establishments would be driven out of business by an increase in minimums.

No labor spokesman appeared at the Rochester hearing.

Similar hearings by the recently appointed State Laundry Minimum Wage Board will be held in Albany, Syracuse and New York city. The dates have not been announced.

AT BUFFALO, Larry L. Korn, secretary of the Buffalo Federation of Labor, called the current hourly rates of 75 cents for full-time workers and 80 cents for part-time help "totally inadequate, shameful and ridiculous."

Frank H. Ervolino, business agent of Local 168 of the Laundry Workers Union, called for a $1.25 hourly minimum or "a considerable increase." He said low wages would drive skilled laundry workers into higher-paying jobs.

It's easy to play today's hand correctly when you look at all of the cards. Imagine that you can see only your own hand and the dummy. How should you plan to make three no-trump?

West leads the six of hearts, and dummy wins with the king. You must try to win four clubs. How should you play the clubs?

Naturally you begin by taking the king of clubs. Then you lead a club towards your hand. East plays low. Should you finesse the ten or play the ace?

This is a situation that often arises at the table, and it will pay you to work it out once for all. The percentage play is to go up with the ace of clubs.

Either play will work if each opponent has three clubs. The difference arises only when East has four clubs and West has two. Playing the ace will work when West has Q-x or J-x, but the finesse of the ten will work when West has two small clubs.

Frequency gives you the answer. West will more frequently have the doubleton queen or jack than a pair of small cards.

If you're interested in the method of knowing this, here it is. West can have and of six pairs of small cards: three pairs headed by the seven, two pairs headed by the six, and one pair headed by the five. However, West can have eight pairs headed by a picture card: queen and any of the four small cards, or jack and any of the small cards.

The odds are 8 to 6 in favor of playing the ace. It pays to play with rather than against the odds.

Matteawan Trusty Is Returned to Hospital

Beacon, N. Y., July 12 (AP)—An escaped trusty at the Matteawan State Hospital for the Criminal Insane was tracked down by police with bloodhounds last night after more than eight hours of freedom.

A Beacon policeman noticed a dog barking at a bush and then saw the fugitive leap out. The trusty, then seven miles from the hospital, apparently had been running from the bloodhounds brought from the state police barracks at Hawthorne.

The policeman chased the man, Earl Commander, 22, of the Bronx, as he ran into a backyard.

Commander was seized by two hospital attendants who happened to be cruising by in a car. He was taken back to the hospital.

Commander, a Negro, was committed after a series of burglaries.

Gloria Modica Injured

Gloria Modica, 20, of Route 4, Box 36 Kingston, was reported slightly injured in a two-car collision at TenBroeck avenue and O'Neil street Tuesday night. Officers Everett Emmick and Ira Hadsel reported at 8:43 p. m., that the car of Donald Wallace, 23, of Rosendale was headed west on O'Neil street, and a sedan owned by John Modica, and driven by Gloria, was going south on TenBroeck avenue. Gloria Modica suffered a bruised left arm, and both vehicles were towed from the scene, the report said.

Local Concert Band Will Play Tonight

The man who thinks that music is the ". . . greatest thing in the world for everybody because it is a mind-opener," will conduct the Kingston Concert Band at Block Park tonight at 8 in the second of its performances for the summer season. That man is Sal Castiglione, known to many as the supervisor of instrumental music for the Catskill schools.

Sal, who maintains his own music studio at 495 Albany avenue, is a native Kingstonian and he further states, "Music is never dull. Everyone should study it —not only to become a professional but to train the mind to think."

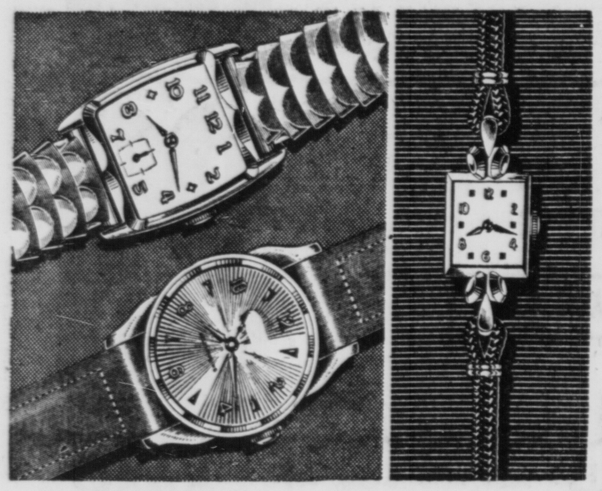

The Kingston Concert Band was organized in 1925 and was originally known as the East Kingston Concert Band. Today it consists of 25 members. They are:

Albert Rossi, Myron Rossi, Frank Tiano, Reginald Deyo, Peter Ferraro, Louis Arace, Michael Marchuk, Frank Domanico, Thomas Turck, Joseph Costello, George Cosenza, Ole Christensen Jr., Harry Castiglione, Frank Castiglione, William Steuding, Hollis Burhans, Jacqueline Burhans, Gordon Burhans, Jack Deyo, Sam Castiglione, Sam Gulisano, William Paulus, Howard Ives and Ole Christensen Sr.

On the program tonight will be featured:

King Cotton March .....Sousa
Spotlight Overture ...Brockton
On the Hudson March, Goldman
King Rose Overture ...Barnard
Celebre Toreador March, Metallo
Lustspiel Overture Keller Bela
Gli Allori March .....Sbraccia

Catskill Folk Museum Exhibits Pioneer Crafts of Yesteryear

Beginning Saturday, July 14, the Catskill Folk Museum will be open every Saturday during July and August. The museum is housed in the Ski Hut at the Simpson Memorial Slope in Woodland Valley, Phoenicia. Admission is free to the public. The hours are from 10 a. m. to 5 p. m.

Old Catskill industries that depended on the skillful and strong hands of pioneer Catskill men and women are featured in this museum. A complete set of tools for the making of wooden hoops are on display, and also many relics relating to the tanning industry which flourished in early days. On exhibit is a contract between James Simpson, early Phoenicia tanner, and a bark peeler. A miniature raft is on display, made by an old raftsman, Orson Slack, who contributed many items to the museum.

But the Catskill Museum is not merely a place where old tools can be seen. A hoop maker is actually at work making hoops; the spinning wheel is turning and the shuttle of the old carpet loom darts back and forth. A visitor to the museum actually sees the past brought to life, by the young curators, who are members of the Camp Woodland Work Camp.

The museum was assembled bit by bit, by Camp Woodland during the past 19 years as children from the big cities camping in the Catskills were taken on trips through the country to become acquainted with the history and folklore of the country region. Over 50 residents of the Catskills, from the Delaware river to the Hudson, have cooperated in collecting these tools and donating them to the museum. Mike Todd of Arkville, retired ranger and famous bear hunter, has acted as consultant to the museum staff teaching the children about pioneer days out of his vast fund of practical experience. A reprint of the article, "Yarns of a Catskill Woodsman," written by Norman Studer, camp director, and published in the New York State Folklore Quarterly has also been made available.

Fragility Is Keynote of New Fashions; Hair Style Shows Buns Over Each Ear

By DOROTHY ROE
Associated Press Women's Editor

New York, July 12 (AP)—You've got to be elegant this fall.

You've got to dress to the teeth, act like a lady and perhaps learn how to swoon with the grace that grandmother understood so well.

That is the theme that has been impressed upon the American fashion press this week, during a series of previews of New York fall styles, all of which have been bitten by a nostalgic bug producing large rashes of ladylike elegance in the 1912 manner.

Pauline Trigere, the transplanted French designer who is now happily American, hits a high note of suave, understated magnificance in her collection of great-lady fashions. There is nothing flagrant or overdone in her well-bred fall lineup, as is to be expected. But there is definitely a new air of formality, of fastidiousness, of manners and attitudes not seen in these parts for nigh onto 40 years.

An example is the almost shamelessly simple collarless suit of red velour, which manages to caress the figure with subtle suggestion, achieving a nostalgic look for no good reason except possibly the prim little mink choker worn with it, or the way the model wears her hair, in buns over each ear.

Ben Zuckerman, master of the tailored touch, softens the line this season with empire suggestion, feminine detail and lush fabrics. His suits, while still unmistakably tailored by a master hand, have a look of fragility that is the mark of the new season's female.

William Fox also interprets the new feeling of fashion in definite terms of elegance, showing dresses and costumes with a feeling that would be instantly recognized and applauded by the pre-war generation of ladylike ladies.

And Harvey Berin, through his designer Karen Stark, conjures up a magic atmosphere of fastidiousness and romantic elaboration, in a suave collection of town-bred fashions which seem to call for a carriage complete with coachman.

Emperor Jones Ballet Has Premiere Tonight

The Empire State Music Festival in Ellenville presents the world premiere tonight at 8:15 of a new ballet, "Emperor Jones," with a score by the noted Brazilian composer - conductor Heitor Villa-Lobos. The work is based on Eugene O'Neill's memorable drama of the same name and represents the first score especially commissioned by the Festival. Jose Limon, who choreographed the Ballet, is also its star dancer. Lucas Hoving is featured in a company that includes Michael Hollander, Richard Fitz-Gerald, Harlan McCallum, Chester Wolenski, Martin Morginsky and Jose Gutierrez.

The setting is credited to Kim Edgar Swados, the costumes to Pauline Lawrence. "Emperor Jones" will be conducted by Villa-Lobos with the Symphony of the Air as the orchestral feature. A repeat performance will be given on Saturday night, July 14.

FLOWERS FOR GUEST OF HONOR?

"I am giving a lunch party for a friend of mine who is soon to be married. I would like to know if I am expected to provide her with a corsage to wear on this occasion. I have had conflicting opinions on this and would like to be set straight."

An obligation such as this does not even exist. It is never necessary to give the guest of honor flowers at a lunch or dinner party.

Present for the Priest

Dear Mrs. Post: For the past several months I have been taking instructions to become a Catholic. The priest who has been instructing me has been very kind and has given me a lot of his time. Even though this may be part of his duties, I feel that I would like to do something for him to show my appreciation. Would a present be in order? If so, what would you suggest?

In becoming a Catholic you are giving him the greatest present possible—and nothing more is necessary.

Rice and Old Shoes

Dear Mrs. Post: Perhaps you can help me. I have always been curious to know the meaning behind throwing rice at the bride and groom on their wedding day, and also the reason for tying old shoes on the back of the bridal car. I would appreciate it if you could enlighten me on these matters.

Answer: The throwing of rice is supposed to bring them good luck in raising a large family. The old shoes and tin cans is a vulgarity that has never been in good taste.

Help the Hostess

Dear Mrs. Post: When invited to dinner at the house of a friend who has no help, is a guest expected to offer to help with the dishes?

Answer: It would be inconsiderate not to do so.

Are you planning to have a simple shower for a friend or bride-to-be? Mrs. Post is sorry she cannot answer personal mail. Her leaflet E-13, "Let's Give a Shower," will help you. Saugerties

C of C Will Plan Saugerties Sales Days Promotion

Saugerties, July 12—Plans for the forthcoming Saugerties Sales Day will be outlined and special promotions will be discussed at the regular monthly meeting of Saugerties Area Chamber of Commerce Wednesday, July 18, at 8:30 p. m. in Schoentag's Colonial Tavern, Route 32, near the Thruway interchange.

All Saugerties merchants whether Chamber members or not are invited to attend for a full discussion on possible promotions for the annual event. This will not be a supper meeting.

The agenda of the meeting will also include reports on the proposed brochure on the Saugerties area: the membership campaign; Christmas lighting fund raising campaign and a general discussion on the Appreciation Day program.

This meeting is not a closed meeting. Any non-member merchants, industries! professional men and interested citizens may attend.

The local Chamber operates for the expansion of the community and the improvement of its facilities. Any member of the community with suggestions and constructive criticism is invited to attend and present his views.

New Community Band To Present Concert

Saugerties, July 12—A newly-formed Community Band under the direction of Winthrop G. Emmons, instrumental instructor of Saugerties Central School will give a concert at the newly-opened municipal parking lot on Partition street Friday at 8:30 p. m. following the usual merchant's Appreciation Day event.

The band following rehearsal Tuesday night at Saugerties Central High School made the decision to offer the concert with the possibility of making it a weekly event during the summer.

Mr. Emmons said approximately 20 local residents many well-known in community activities will participate.

A special temporary band stand will be erected in the parking area by the village street department according to Roy S. Helsmoortel, street commissioner.

There will be no charge or collection taken. The reception of the offering by the public will determine whether or not the program will be made a weekly event.

School Oil and Milk Contracts Awarded

Saugerties, July 12—R. K. Ballard, Inc., of Kingston was awarded the fuel oil contract for the Saugerties Central School system on a low bid of .10523 on No. 4 oil and .123 per gallon on No. 2 oil. The contract for kerosene was awarded to Amos Post Inc., of Catskill at a fixed price of .155 per gallon.

Contracts for the supply for the 1956-1957 school year were awarded at a special Board of Education meeting Tuesday night. DeSomma and Bauser of Malden also submitted bids.

Prospect Dairy of Kingston was awarded the contract to furnish pasteurized milk for the school lunch program at the Main Street School at a price of 5½ cents per half pint in paper containers.

Bids for the transportation of pupils were received from Mt. View Coach Lines, Crotty Brothers, Ray Garrison, Albert Ricketson, Fred Ohl and Lipton Bee Line. Since some of the bids submitted were on groups of routes rather than on individual route, all bids were rejected on the advice of counsel and have been re-advertised.

Ned bids will be opened by the board on July 18.

Baste Barbecued Turkey With Pungent Lemon Sauce

ROAST TURKEY—as good in the summer as it is in the fall and winter—makes delightful item to barbecue.

The Harland Leonhard family of La Canada, Calif., gave a barbecue party for us. For the basting sauce they used lemons picked from a tree beside the kitchen door.

Hospitable people, casual, with a sense of good food and good fun, they made that outdoor party one of the most memorable.

Everybody gobbled the barbecued turkey, wolfed corn on the cob, had seconds of the green salad with sour cream dressing.

Talk, singing and looking at the stars through trees followed. Wonderful western friendliness, fragrant with perfume of lemon blossoms.

While Harland Leonhard and his two teen-age sons did the barbecuing, Mrs. Leonhard gave us a few recipes.

Corn on the Cob

Six ears of corn, 6 pieces of aluminum foil (about 6x12 inches), ½ cup butter or margarine, melted, ¼ cup lemon juice, ½ teaspoon grated lemon peel.

Place ear of corn in center of each piece of aluminum foil. Blend butter, lemon juice, grated peel and pour a little over each ear of corn. Bring the sides of the foil together and fold over, as for drug store wrap. Fold each end over tightly so steam will not escape. Place wrapped corn on the brazier and cook until tender (20 to 30 minutes). Serve in foil with salt and pepper.

Foothill Barbecue Sauce

One-half cup lemon juice, ½ cup salad oil, 1 tablespoon soy sauce, 1 clove garlic, crushed, 1 teaspoon Worcestershire sauce, 1 teaspoon salt, ¼ teaspoon freshly ground black pepper.

Combine lemon juice and salad oil. Add seasonings. Let stand several hours for flavors to blend. Brush turkeys generously with the sauce during cooking period.

Makes enough sauce for 2 medium-size turkeys.

Chopped Chive Sour Cream Dressing

Three-fourths cup sour cream, ¼ cup lemon juice, ½ teaspoon salt, 1 teaspoon chopped chives or green onion tops, 1 tablespoon sugar.

Combine all ingredients thoroughly; chill. Makes about 1 cup dressing.

TOMORROW'S DINNER: Barbecued turkey with lemon sauce, roasted corn on cob, tossed green salad with sour cream dressing, French bread, butter or margarine, iced watermelon, coffee, tea, milk.

Openings Are Noted In Nursing Field

Albany, N. Y., July 12 (AP)—The State Education Department says only two-thirds of the general-duty nursing positions in New York are filled.

The department yesterday released a report by the Nurses Resource Study Committee, which notes that in the overall nursing field, there was a 12 per cent personnel shortage.

The committee said its figures were arrived at in a study of 400 hospitals.

The lack of general duty nurses was termed "the most serious." The report said the shortage was mainly in metropolitan New York city.

Circus Charge Dismissed

Buffalo, N. Y., July 12 (AP)—A complaint charging that Ringling Bros., Barnum & Bailey Circus violated the state wage laws has been dismissed by a peace justice in suburban Cheektowaga. Peace Justice Joseph Pyszczynski dismissed the complaint on a motion by an attorney for Michael Burke of New York, executive director of the circus. Hugh McM. Russ, the attorney, contended that the warrant named the circus corporation but didn't specify Burke as an officer.

Historic Site Scene of Auction

The original stone house located at 92 Huguenot street, New Paltz, New York, built in 1712 by Abraham Hasbrouck, will be the scene of an auction Saturday July 14 when the furnishings and collection belonging to the estate of the late Ivar Elis Evers will be sold by O. Rundle Gilbert, auctioneer of New York city.

THE FURNISHINGS, collected over a period of many years by the late Mr. Evers, well known artist and architectural designer, consist of antiques either made locally or used in the old houses of New Paltz and vicinity in the past centuries.

Of interest in the collection is an 18th Century Tray-top Lowboy, Dutch cupboards with butterfly hinges, a sword sharpener attributed to General Washington and a Bible box of General Sullivan's, of Revolutionary fame for whom the county was named. Also a Pewter Shelf Cabinet from "Deyo House" and a Drop Leaf Square Leg Stretcher Table from the slave house of the Etling Estate.

THE HOUSE is one of the finest existing examples of the old stone houses for which Ulster county is famous. Built in 1712 by Abraham Hasbrouck the French Huguenot whose friendship with Governor Sir Edmund Andros let to the granting of the New Paltz Patent to the Twelve Men who founded the community, the house still retains the flavor of an ancient French farmhouse. Much of the massive original interior woodwork, with the rich patina of more than two and a half centuries still is in place. The old stone floored kitchen was famous in the eighteenth century as the gathering place of fanciers of cock fighting. Col Jonathan Hasbrouck of Newburgh, friend of George Washington, was born in this house.

Mr. Gilbert announces that the house and furnishings will be open for inspection on Friday, July 13 from 10 a. m. to 5 p. m. at which time a collection of over 2,000 books on Americana, histories, western, geneology and occultism can be purchased.

The auction of the furnishings will start at 10 a. m. on Saturday, on the premises.

Sunoco Dealers Cited

Awards were made today to 32 Sunoco dealers in Newburgh, Middletown, Kingston and Poughkeepsie culminating a six-week clean-up campaign sponsored by Sun Oil Company. Merit awards were made to 32 dealers whose stations met the standards of cleanliness and eye-appeal set for the campaign. District Manager Edwin N. Gerken said, "The Sunoco Clean-Up Campaign is company-wide. More and more, the communities throughout our nation have come to recognize that special emphasis must be given to beautification programs if our towns and cities are to be attractive, healthy places in which to live." He said, "Our own Clean-Up Campaign to maintain the tidy appearance of service stations is designed as a cooperative aid to municipal authorities."

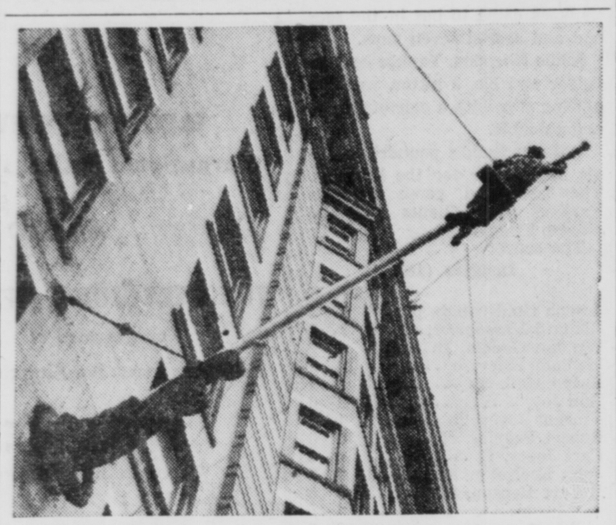

120 Feared Drowned

Karachi, July 12 (AP)—About 120 persons are believed drowned in the capsizing of a boat on the Chenab river 70 miles northwest of Lahore. Reports reaching Karachi said a heavy storm overtook the boat yesterday as it let the river bank. It was dashed against an island in the river and overturned. Of about 150 persons aboard, only 30 were rescued, the reports said.

OUT ON A POLE—Living dangerously, William Morris hangs high above a St. Louis, Mo., street as he puts a new halyard on a hotel flagpole. Morris received moral support from sidewalk superintendents who watched the maneuver from below.

Will Oust Auditor

Springfield, Ill., July 12 (AP)—Gov. William G. Stratton has indicated he will move to oust State Auditor Arville E. Hodge, whose office accounts are involved in alleged financial irregularities. "In my estimation," Stratton told a news conference yesterday, "it is obvious that public and party confidence in the officer (Hodge) and his official operations no longer exists. "It is my duty to do what I can to restore confidence in the operation of the auditor's office, to punish those responsible, and to put the office on a decent basis."

Shriners to Parade

Detroit, July 12 (AP)—The Shriners put the final fillip on their week-long convention tonight with the grand finale parade. The annual after-dark show is known as the "electrical parade." Many units carry special lighting equipment that flashes on shiny sabres and colorful, satin uniforms. Added units will swell the night march over the 10,000 who took part in Tuesday's 3½ hour daytime spectacle. A Koran temple of Cleveland alone will have 700 men in tonight's parade.

Still Won't Use Buses

Tallahassee, Fla., July 12 (AP)—Tallahassee Negroes last night publicly ignored an announcement that bus service will be resumed here and reaffirmed their determination to hold out for fully integrated seating. No mention was made at a mass meeting of the Negro Inter Civic Council of plans announced by the Cities Transit Company to reinstate the service suspended July 1. The company halted operations in the wake of financial losses caused by the Negro boycott. The boycott is a protest against segregated seating.

Now everyone can know ...
THE TRUTH ABOUT
MARGARINE

The one major difference in margarine is packaging.

Let's look at the facts. There is no difference in grades of margarine. There may be some slight variations in color, taste or consistency of content. But all packers must conform to the same set of strict government standards.

You might ask then, if there's no difference in quality, why is there a difference in price. And the answer is packaging. Some packers add fancy foil wrappers. Others may use special containers. Some packers need a special packing to keep their margarines fresh. Others may use it for the sake of appearance.

Whatever the reason may be, special packaging adds just one thing to margarine ... COST. Yes, the quality is still the same, but you pay more.

So, if you want to save as much as 25% on margarine try HAPPY BOY, the finest, tastiest spread at a realistic price.

HAPPY BOY MARGARINE is delivered so frequently by over 365 distributors that it must be fresh. And because it is fresh, the price isn't padded with a lot of expensive packaging extras. That's why HAPPY BOY MARGARINE sells for as much as 25% less than the other leading brands.

These are the facts and HAPPY BOY backs them up with a full unconditional money-back guarantee. If, for any reason, you are not satisfied, your dealer is authorized to return your full purchase price.

We, at HOTEL BAR FOODS, the makers of HAPPY BOY, have been in the so-called "expensive" spread business for 70 years. Tasty, wholesome foods have been and will continue to be our only business. On that basis, we believe that we are best qualified to make and offer the very best margarine at the most economical price, HAPPY BOY MARGARINE.

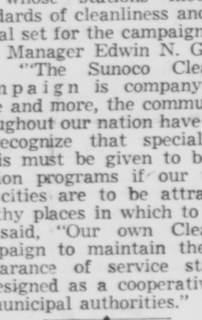

Try HAPPY BOY today. Look for the red package at your favorite grocer or supermarket.

Maines Hits Winning Homer, Fans 15, to Stop Saugerties

Colonials Score Over Dutchmen in NY-NJ, 8-6

The boxscore of the Colonial-Saugerties game last night at Dietz Stadium reveals that southpaw Bob Maines was nicked for 11 hits by the Saugerties Dutchmen in a New York-New Jersey League contest.

But the 300 or so spectators also saw Maines strike out 15 batters and smash a three-run homer in the eighth inning as Manager Fred Davi's men stopped their arch foes, 8 to 6. What more can you ask of a young man trying to get along in the baseball world?

It was the second Colonial victory in five league starts. The loss was Saugerties' sixth to go with two wins.

Maines' smash—a line drive to right field where Joe Benjamin Jr. didn't play it too expertly, chased Len Whitten and John Mesceda across the plate with the tying and winning run. An insurance marker followed a moment later.

HAVING recovered his breath, Maines strode to the mound and fanned three Dutchmen in the ningth, including pinch hitter, Jerry Brice. In between, Boo Schafer, had garnered his second hit.

Maines got the decision over reliefer Bill Safford, a new fireballing addition to the Saugerties staff. Rennie Giannuzzi started for the Dutchmen but was plagued by wildness and left the game, trailing, 4-1, after three innings.

Bill Straub, the peppery Saugerties catcher, gave Maines conniptions in the early going. He belted him for singles in the first and third innings and then blasted a base-clearing triple in the firth, when Saugerties, scored four times.

STRAUB'S poke sailed over Joe Modica's head in left and would have been a homer for most players. That big slam followed by pinch hitter, Jim Brennan's single, set Saugerties ahead, 6-4. And it stayed that way until Kingston erupted for four runs in the eighth.

Maines, meanwhile, allowed only one hit over the last four innings when he accumulated nine of his strikeouts.

A bit of intemperate base running by Phil Gatti, an intelligent young man who plays right field for the Colonials, in the first inning actually boomeranged into a three-run rally.

Giannuzzi, fast and impressive fanned Joe Modica and Red Gorsline to start the game. The Colonials trailed 1-0 as the result of Boo Schaffer's opening triple to right center and a singleton to right by Joe Benjamin.

CLIFF Schoonmaker scratched a single to third, Tom Carlino walked and Gatti singled. Three on and two out and Gatti, for some mysterious reason, set out for second base which was at the moment thoroughly populated by Carlino.

Well, to make a long story short, the inevitable rundowns followed, but luck was with the Colonials. Schoonmaker beat a wide relay to the plate and all hands were safe. Big Bob Shelightner's dormant bat came alive with a booming single to center, scoring Carlino and Gatti. Whitten fanned, but it was 3-1 Kingston.

Whitten touched off the winning rally with a single to left and went to second when Hubie Barber let the ball trickle through his legs. Mesceda walked and Maines slashed his drive to right. A better fielder might have corralled it, but it stands in the recordbooks as a home run.

SHELIGHTNER and Schoonmaker collected two hits each for Kingston. Straub went "3 for 3" with a triple and two singles. Schaffer, Benjamin and Barber also had two hits.

The Colonials meet the Paterson Generals Saturday night at Dietz Stadium, then resume the vendetta with Saugerties Sunday at Cantine Field.

Pascual Leads In Gopher Balls

New York, July 12 (AP)—Camilio Pascual, Washington's young righthander, has gone from one extreme to the other in the matter of serving up gopher balls to American League batsmen this season.

The 22-year-old Cuban, who gave up only five homers in 130 innings last year, already has been tapped for 20—most in the majors. Pascual's "gophers" also are the most yielded by a Washington pitcher in a season. Bob Porterfield having set the previous high of 19 in 1953. Porterfield, now with Boston, is runnerup to Pascual with 15.

Figures compiled today by The Associated Press show that Bob Rush of the Chicago Cubs and Philadelphia's Robin Roberts are tied for the most home runs allowed in the National League with 18 apiece. Rush has worked 113 innings as compared to 137 innings by Roberts.

Pascual, who has hurled 98 innings, has been victimized chiefly by the league-leading New York Yankees. The Yanks have hit nine homers off him with Mickey Mantle accounting for three and Hank Bauer for two. He also has grooved a pair of round-trippers to Detroit's Al Kaline.

Torpid Captures Buffalo Feature

Buffalo, July 12 (AP)—Torpid, owned by Max Hochberg of Irvington, N. J., and driven by Johnny Simpson, won the W. N. Reynolds Memorial Stake for two-year-old pacers last night at Buffalo Raceway.

The pacer, winning $6,738.12 in purse money, finished second in the first dash and won the second in 2:05 3/5.

Adios Express set a new track record in winning the first dash in 2:04 3/5. The old mark of 2:07 2/5 was set by Baldwin Hanover in 1954. Adio Express finished sixth in the second dash.

The time of decision is at hand in the National and American League pennant races, where the Cincinnati Redlegs and the New York Yankees enjoy the leads at the moment with great expectations ahead.

Cincinnati could fatten its 1½ game National League edge almost overnight. The Yankees, even with Mickey Mantle and Yogi Berra bothered by injury, could bust the AL race wide open.

The Redlegs have 13 games remaining on their current home stand and get back to business after the All-Star game break by opening a three-game series against the seventh-place Philadelphia Phillies tonight.

Second place Milwaukee and Brooklyn's third place world champions, meanwhile, have a four-game set on tap at Milwaukee, opening with a twi-night doubleheader today. That puts the Redlegs, who have won 12 of their last 16 and have a four-game winning streak on the fire, in a dandy spot to make hay.

IT ALSO puts the Braves and the Dodgers, who are two games behind, on the spot, along with fourth place St. Louis and fifth place Pittsburgh. The Cardinals, particularly, are on the fence—having lost 11 of their last 16 and eight of their last nine to fall to a mere one percentage point edge over the Bucs.

All in all, the Alphonse-Gaston act the NL has put together for a pennant race this year is a whale of a changeup from last season—when the break-away Dodgers led by 11½ games after the All-Star game break.

Rain postponed Milwaukee's scheduled make-up game with New York's Giants last night.

The American League race is almost exactly as it was at this stage last year—with the Yankees apparently safely out front. New York holds a 6½-game edge over second place Chicago and third place Cleveland going into a three-game series with the Indians today and with the White Sox due for a three-game visit starting Sunday.

A YEAR AGO, the Yankees had a five-game spread over second place Cleveland with Chicago another game back as the pennant chase resumed after the All-Star game. But within nine days, the Yanks were two points back of the White Sox. And a month later, Cleveland had taken a two-game lead with the Yankees in third, two points back of Chicago. It wasn't until late August that New York finally got its pennant drive in gear.

Manager Casey Stengel thinks the three-day All-Star game break may have helped his wobbling pitching staff, but the big question is how effectively Mickel Mantle and Yogi Berra can work with their injuries.

MANTLE, still wearing a brace on his injured right knee, says his nine-inning haul in the All-Star game didn't do his knee any further harm. And Yogi insists there's nothing frightfully wrong with the little finger on his right hand which was banged by a foul tip in Tuesday's classic. Berra even snubbed a scheduled X-ray examination of the pinky yesterday.

There also are two notable injuries in the National League—with Milwaukee catcher Del Crandall nursing a bum elbow, which forced him out of the All-Star game; and Brooklyn third baseman Randy Jackson, the second best hitter in the Dodgers' timid bat attack at .294, out for about a week with a slashed thumb suffered in a household mishap.

Electrol Giants Gain American First Half

Lions Club Yankees captured the first half of the American Little League race with a 6-3 victory over the Electrol Giants yesterday, in a game in which heroes were commonplace.

Ronnie Ellis stopped a Giant rally in the fifth inning.

Vince Smedes of the Giants cracked his first homer of the season in the sixth inning.

Frank Fay smashed a three-run homer in the first inning to climax a four-run rally by the Yankees.

THEN IT took a sparkling bases-loaded catch by Ferrel McElrath to save the game for the Yankees, after the Giants had scored twice in the top of the sixth.

Fay and Ellis combined for a three-hitter and struck out nine between them.

Smedes fanned 14 in a losing cause. He also had a single in addition to his homer.

Jay Herrington rapped a single and double for the Yankees. Fay added a single to his homer.

Dodgers meet the Red Sox in today's game. Giants and Yankees are scheduled Friday.

Dewitt Lake '300' Set July 22

Crack Field Will Compete in Annual Fixture

Date for the ninth annual DeWitt Lake swimming meet has been set for Sunday, July 22, at 3 p. m., Lou Schafer, meet director, said.

The top feature, of course, is the DeWitt "300" which over the years has attracted the best swimmers in the area.

Gil Kelder, who has won the event the last three years, will be on hand to defend his title, Schafer said.

Prizes will be awarded for first, second and third places in each event for boys and girls.

RACES WILL BE scheduled for both sexes from 10 years of age through adult.

Boys and girls will swim in their own age groups and will compete in separate races. Races are scheduled at 50 and 100 yards in the free style event.

In the girls events, for ages from 10 to 12, 13 and 14, and 15 and 16, there has always been a strong group from Newburgh.

W. L. Burnett, proprietor of the swin resort, said an invitation had been extended to the Newburgh swimmers.

All persons who wish to compete in the races may sign up at the lake store in person or call by telephone.

Dodgers picked up their first Town of Ulster Little League victory yesterday with a thumping 18-14 decision over the Yankees.

Only 13 hits were recorded by the two teams, but there were 23 bases on balls and a myriad of errors.

Dodgers led 14-0 when the Yankees came to bat in the second and scored seven runs.

Eddie Koeppen, Yankee centerfielder and No. 3 hitter, was the batting star with a pair of triples and a double.

William Gaddis pounded a single and double for the Dodgers. The postponed game between Yankees and Giants will be played Friday.

Jones Dairy Scores 15 in First to Crush Eagles, 17 - 0

Huge Rally Believed All-Time Twi Record

Jones Dairy, bouncing back with a vengeance from its recent shutout by Nadlers, may have set an all-time City Baseball League record for runs in one inning when it crushed the Kingston Eagles, 17-0, in a 4½-inning contest yesterday at the Athletic Field.

Records are hazy on the statistic, but the Dairymen's 15-run first inning quite possibly is the most number of runs ever scored by a twilight club in one turn at bat.

City League historians recall a 14-run inning by the Knights of Columbus team against Schryver Lumber in the pre-war period.

What had figured to be a solid battle was reduced to a shambles in a couple of minutes.

THE JONESES jammed six hits and seven walks and there were several errors of omission and commission in that wild, hectic inning. The victory tied Joneses for first place with Watzkas at 5-1.

Meanwhile, Bruce Bechtold, the man with the rubber arm, sailed through five shutout innings on four hits, one a double by Tony Marable, the second Eagle pitcher. George Kithcart was the starter.

Nippy Jones slammed a base-clearing double during the big rally, while Tom Carlino also accounted for three RBIs with a two-run single and a double. Phil Gatti also knocked in two runs.

Kithcart, of course, didn't survive the first inning and Tony Marable came on to halt the slaughter. He pitched creditably the rest of the way, giving up single runs in the second and third.

MARABLE and Al Ttate shared the four Eagle hits.

Carlino, Gatti and Joe Modica slugged two hits each for Jones Dairy, Carlino's coming in the first inning.

League leading Watzkas, with Johnny Acker on the mound, go against the last-place Dobler nine in today's game.

USTA Absolves Harness Drivers

Albany, July 12 (AP)—The U. S. Trotting Assn. (USTA) today cleared three harness racing drivers charged by state judges with slowing Vernon Downs races.

The board of directors of the Association's District 9 said it had decided on the basis of a June 25 appeal hearing that no violation would be entered on the records or licenses of Hal Hetzler of Pittsburgh, Pa., Bart Wagner of Jamaica and Harold Dancer Jr. of Holmdel, N. J.

The drivers served the suspensions from June 12-14 but appealed in a move to clear their licenses. issued by the USTA.

THEY HAD BEEN suspended under a State Harness Commission rule that says no driver shall cause a horse or field of horses to "excessively slow down their speed."

The District unit said the rule, laid down by George P. Monaghan, state harness racing commissioner, would "destroy public confidence, ruin racing and discourage owners and drivers."

The suspensions resulted from a race June 11 in which all three drivers participated.

The board said testimony at its hearing showed that the judges had been instructed to penalize the drivers of leading horses if the second quarter of a race were run four seconds or more slower than the first quarter.

Bob Reardon went the distance for the Crows, yielding nine hits and striking out 14 batters. The Crows collected 13 safeties off Al Tucker, who struck out 11.

ONE OF THE Crows players was removed from the game in the last inning for repeated, unnecessary roughness, a rather rare Little League occurrence.

Keith Whipple belted a triple for the Eagles.

Bill Costello and Bruce Every each had three hits for the Crows. Wayne Reynolds clipped a pair of singles and Charlie Reis had a double.

State Golfers In Match Play

Cortland, July 12 (AP)—Eight remaining players from an original field of 53 teed off today in the first round of the match-play finals of the New York State Women's Amateur golf tournament.

A second round was to determine the two finalists for tomorrow's 18-hole windup over the 6,137 yard course. Women's par is 38-37—75.

These were the first-round pairings today (qualifying scores in parentheses):

MISS NAOMI .Venable of Poughkeepsie (164) and qualified as defending champion, vs. Mrs. Philip Allen of Syracuse, 1941 champion (161).

Miss Sylvia Maurycy of Schenectady (159) vs. Mrs. Nancy Rudder of Snyder (166).

Mrs. "Cookie" Swift Berger of Buffalo, 1953 champion, (156) vs. Mrs. Thomas Cantwell of Saranac Lake (161).

Mrs. Reinert Torgerson of Forest Hills, five times champ through 1950, (160) vs. Mrs. George Trainer of Rochester (166).

Mrs. Trainer and Mrs. Rutter won in sudden-death play when they and Mrs. William Warren of Rochester tied in the qualifying rounds.

Fry-Brough Finals Looms at Chicago

Chicago, July 12 (AP)—Shirley Fry, the new Wimbledon champion, will be the center of attraction at the National Clay Courts tournament at suburban River Forest Tennis Club next week.

The meet, opening Monday and running through Sunday, may provide a replay of the Wimbledon match in which Miss Fry upset Althea Gibson to end a string of 18 tourney triumphs for the New York Negro star.

Among other top women players competing is Dorothy Head Knode of Forest Hills, N. Y.

A half dozen of the nation's top rated men players will aim for Tony Trabert's vacated title. Two former champions who are early favorites are Art Larsen of San Leandro and Bernard (Tut) Bartzen of Dallas.

Tennis Juniors In Doubles Play

Syracuse, July 12 (AP)—Doubles competition began today in the New York state boys and juniors tennis tournament and singles matches continued.

In play yesterday, Steve Burke of East Aurora upset Peter Alford, of Syracuse, one of the top-seeded entrants in the boys division. The score was 6-2, 6-1.

Herebert Fitzgibbon of Garden City, L. I., swept two sets—without losing a game—from Patrick Walsh of Syracuse, also in the boys division.

In the same bracket, John Adler of Scarsdale beat G. L. Roswey of Cooperstown and Andy Gilmore of Rockville Center lost only one game in taking two sets from Patrick Dugan of Hamburg.

Yale teams retained eastern intercollegiate championships during 1956 in baseball, golf and swimming.

Kennedy Nixes Soviet Hopes in Basketball

New York, July 12 (AP)—Russian basketball players are half-pint squirts who can leap like bullfrogs and run like the wind, but they won't beat our towering Yanks in the Melbourne Olympics.

This was the first hand report brought back from Europe today by Walter Kennedy, world-girdling publicist for Abe Saperstein's Globetrotters. Walter's travels have given him periodic looks at the Soviet cagers.

Kennedy said the Russians had learned none of the modern American techniques of one-handed jump shots and outside shooting. "Our men, who will have a big edge in height, also are much more poised and much smoother with their pass patterns," he added. "We should win the Olympics easily."

Blue Jay Streaks End in Eastern

By The Associated Press

Two Eastern League winning streaks have been snapped for the league-leading Schenectady Blue Jays.

They dropped a 12-4 decision to the fifth-place Williamsport Grays last night at Schenectady, ending their team winning streak at 11. And pitcher Henry Mason, who was chased in the five-run first frame, was charged with his first loss in eight decisions.

AT ALBANY, outfield Tony Melton of the Johnstown Johnnies pulled a "Mickey Mantle" by slamming two homers, one lefthanded and one righthanded, which were good for six runs as the Johnnies drubbed the Senators 12-3.

The Reading Indians pulled back into second place and gained a game on Schenectady as they edged the host Syracuse Chiefs 1-0. And the Binghamton Triplets gained a half-game on the Jays, though they dropped back into third, as they split a twin bill with the visiting Allentown Redbirds, winning 7-2, then losing 5-4.

The Grays rattled three Schenectady pitchers for 15 hits in getting their victory. Dean Lakatosh was the starter and winner but he needed help from Ron Blackburn who came on in the fifth to check a Jay rally.

Westbury Winner

Westbury, July 12 (AP)—Jimmy Lybrook won the $5,000 Allegheny Trot for 3-year-olds by a neck over Ego Hanover at Roosevelt Raceway last night in 2:06 3/5. The favorite, Excella, finished third. Sanders Russell drove the winner who paid $7.30 as the second choice.

Forty Two Track Stars Vie In Decathlon Eliminations

Crawfordsville, Ind., July 12 (AP)—Forty-two fast, big men will work their way through 10 track and field events tomorrow and Saturday at Wabash College in the National AAU decathlon elimination that has produced the best all-round athlete in four straight Olympic games.

On the records, 20-year-old Rafer Johnson of UCLA is the logical successor to James Bausch, the 1932 Olympic decathlon winner, Glenn Morris, 1936, and Bob Mathias, 1948 and 1952.

Johnson, 6 feet 2½ and 195 pounds, broke Mathias' 1952 world record of 7,887 points by scoring 7,983 in winning the Central California AAU decathlon last year.

THE THREE top performers will be added to the Olympic squad. Johnson already is a member as a broad jumper. The Rev. Bob Richards of the Los Angeles Athletic Club, defending champion in the AAU meet, also has a berth clinched in the pole vault, an event he won at Helsinki, Finland, in 1952.

Johnson is rated best in the field in the 100-meter dash, in which he has a best time of 10.5 seconds, and the broad jump, in which he has leaped 25 feet 5¾ inches.

Sam Adams of the Santa Barbara (Calif.) A. C., who defeated Richards earlier this year in the Southern Pacific decathlon, is a potential winner in three events. He has best performances in the shot put, 52 feet 9½ inches, and discus, 159 feet, 3 inches, and javelin, 220 feet.

ERNIE SHELTON of the Southern California Striders Club, who failed to make the U. S. team in the high jump despite past performances up to 6 feet 11¾ inches, should win that event.

Aubrey Lewis, Notre Dame football halfback, who was runner-up to Richards in the 1954 national decathlon, is the top 400-meter dash man with a 47-second mark and also is strong in the hurdles.

Milt Campbell, an Indiana University football player, who was second to Mathias in the Helsinki decathlon, will represent the Navy in attempting to repeat his national victory of three years ago.

Public Linksmen In Round of 16

San Francisco, July 12 (AP)—Sixteen golfers today headed into the third round of the 31st Amateur Public Links championships where, judging from yesterday, anything can happen.

Continuing in the role of favorite was salesman Scotty McBeath, the 34-year-old qualifying medalist from Palo Alto, Calif., who won his first two matches handily.

Two more will be played today over the par 36-36-72 Harding Park course to reduce the field to four semi-finalists.

Sharing attention with the good golf were the unusual happenings. For instance, Dick Hermann of La Canada, Calif., shot a hole-in-one during his first round match but lost.

Then Eddie Langert of Memphis, Tenn., dropped his second round match after losing a hole when he tried to use a golf stick as a pool cue in getting his ball out of a tree. "Improper use of a club" was the official ruling.

Boyle Pitches 2-Hitter for Lumberjacks

Mike Boyle tossed a beautiful 2-hitter as Miron Lumber shaded Prospect Dairy, 2 to 1, in the City Softball League yesterday.

Frank Boyce, the Hilltop ace, checked Subway Grill with four hits, to score an impressive 6 to 1 victory. The big right hander also cracked a homer in his own behalf.

Joe Enright scattered seven hits to give Chez Emile a 9-2 decision over Madden's TV.

AMERICAN Legion in six of their seven turns at bat to trounce Rapp's Express, 12 to 7.

The Lumberjacks' winning marker off Tino Reynaud was the result of Roy Casella's walk, steal of second and D. Moyer's double. Boyle gave up a run in the second. May had two hits for the winners.

Flip Felipe, single and double; Bud McCardle, Bill Gavis, had two hits for Hilltop.

Chez Emile, paced by Bud Scheffel's double and homer, led 3-1 over Madden's after four innings, then racked up six runs in the next two stanzas. Don Hobart rapped a double and single. Bernstein, the losing hurler, led his side with a double and single.

JOE FAUTZ stroked a double and triple to help Andy Murphy of the Legion get the decision over Mort Gazlay of Rapp's. Dick Scherer also had a pair of hits.

Home run hitters included Jerry Kaplan of the Legion and Joe Lawson and Vince Hart of the Express. Hart also rapped a two bagger. Charlie Marable hit two singles.

Symbol of Authority

The symbol of Federal authority in Congress is the mace, a big silver shaft topped by a globe supporting an eagle with outspread wings. It rests on a green marble pedestal at the front of the House when it is in session.

Broke Record

Sam Rayburn, of Texas, served as Speaker of the U. S. House of Representatives longer than any other man, breaking the record established by Henry Clay.

Schneider Bags His First Ace

George Schneider, the Wall street jeweler, bagged the first hole-in-one of his golf career yesterday on the No. 6 hole at The Twaalfskill Club.

Schneider used a No. 6 iron. The ball landed on the green, about seven feet from the pin and trickled into the cup. He was playing a twosome with Alvin Boice.

It was the second ace of the season, Maurice Davenport having holed out at Wiltwyck Country Club's 11th hole a few days ago.

Tigers rallied with three runs in the seventh to shade the Braves, 8-7, in an extra inning thriller in the Rondout Valley Little League.

The regulation contest ended 5-5. Braves scored two in the top of the seventh only to have the Tigers rally with three in their half to win the game.

TIGERS PULLED the game out of the fire with the bases loaded and two runs in. Tommie Brush grounded to first baseman, John Modjeska, who fired to home plate where the ball was knocked out of the catcher's hand by Gene Frost who was tearing in from third.

Frost and George Williams shared the Tiger pitching and allowed eight hits. The Tigers collected 12 off Arnold Smith and Jerry Howard, who fanned 10.

Modjeska poles three singles for the Braves. Len Harvey and Otto Scherreible of the Tigers also had three hits.

Adios Harry 8-5 In National

Westbury, July 12 (AP)—Although beaten in his last two starts Adios Harry still was rated the overnight 8 to 5 favorite in tonight's $25,000 National Pacing Derby at Roosevelt Raceway.

The 5-year-old, owned by J. Howard Lyons of Greenwood, Del., and listed to be driven by Luther Lyons, will start the mile and one-quarter race from No. 5 post position.

Amortizor and Diamond Hal, who nipped Adios Harry in his most recent starts, 2nd and 3rd choices. Others in the 7-horse field are Hillsota, Dottie's Pick, B'Haven and Philip Scott.

JOINS CHISOX—Ellis Kinder, 41, righthanded relief pitcher, was acquired July 11 by the Chicago White Sox from the St. Louis Cardinals on inter-league wavers. He had a 2-0 1956 record with the Cards. (AP Wirephoto)

Today's game—Yankees vs. Dodgers at Glasco

Fred Francello of the Yankees launched the second half of the East Kingston-Glasco Little League with a no-hit, 7-1, victory over the Braves yesterday.

The lone Braves tally was the result of two walks and errors.

FRANCELLO encountered a formidable opponent in Fred Pritchett, who allowed only five hits but was given ragged support.

The five Yankee safeties were singles by Cosmo Sasso, Francello, Robert Gallo, James Nardi, Charles Sangaline.

OUT OF DOORS with Field & Stream

By AL McCLANE
Fishing Editor

Our summer home is on the headwaters of the Beaverkill River in New York, and by on I mean the dining room is built over the stream. Naturally, every time we sit dow to eat we can seet the trout cruising back and forth which makes some of our fishing guests nervous.

My three-year-old daughter decided she wasn't hungry at dinner-time, so she asked if she could feed the fish some celery. I was positive wild brook trout wouldn't eat celery but she started dropping bite size pieces in the pool.

THE TROUT ate every speck of it. Since then, she has fed them cheese, hamburger, turkey and all kinds of table scraps which they take in preference to the flies that swarm in profusion.

Our guests got such a kick out of seeing the fish that I went to a nearby pond and caught some brown trout which I transferred to our dining room pool. I thought it was a good idea to have two kinds of trout. Why, I don't recall.

Maybe you remember what the old timers used to say about browns chasing our native brookies out of the stream. Well, we had a close-up of what must have happened in 1886 when the brownie was first planted in American waters.

ON THE VERY first evening my daughter was tossing bits of cheese to the fish and the newcomers took over with a bang. They barged into the party alternately gobbling food and snapping at the brookies.

Even during the years I worked in a hatchery I never saw such aggressive trout. They clearly didn't intend to eat the natives. They nipped their backs and bellies but more frequently their tails. On two occasions a brown trout batted a brookie clean out of the water.

My wife says I have to get rid of the browns because they don't have a nice disposition. I could have told her that years ago.

Harry Grayson's SCOREBOARD

Archie Moore was never much of a hand for sitting around and twiddling his thumbs when he was younger and, if that were possible, gayer.

And now that time is running out on him, Old Archie, 39 going on 42, isn't sitting around waiting for the metacarpal bone in the back of young Floyd Patterson's hand to heal.

Moore put the breath of life back into the dying beak busting business last summer by knocking out Bobo Olson and giving Rocky Marciano a scare and the richest gate of his career.

Now the ancient glove gypsy is stirring up some excitement in Canada by engaging James J. Parker in a scheduled 15-rounder advertised as being for the world heavyweight championship at Toronto on July 25.

In 20 years of campaigning, Moore has never had to be urged to fight anybody, so when David Rush, a mining promoter, guaranteed him $40,000 to square off with Parker, the antiquated annihilator came-a-runnin'. For that kind of dough, the geezer would wade into the entire Oklahoma football squad in a battle royal.

Rush, 44, got lucky in mining stocks. When this newest prize fight angel bought the home grown Parker's contract from Bill Daly, he was unable to locate a Canadian promoter who could land satisfactory opponents for his 6-foot-3-inch, 210-pound tiger.

The story is that during Rush's many trips to the States, whenever he'd announce himself as a Canadian, Americans would immediately mention Montreal, never Toronto. So, he decided that he'd give the home-grown Parker a real chance, and, at the same time, let people on this side of the border know that Canada is not a one-city dominion.

Anyway, Rush is scarcely pinching pennies putting on what he says is his first and last fight promotion. Jack Solomons, the London promoter, flew in for window dressing, etc. The training camps are located at posh resort hotels, 20 miles apart 100 miles north of Toronto—Moore at the Gateway Gravenhurst and Parker at Muskoka Lodge, Port Sydney.

The top tariff, $20, is a bit high for Toronto, or any other town, especially when ring-wise citizens are not over-sold on Parker and don't take the world heavyweight championship tag too seriously.

But Rush figures that there are enough uranium, copper and oil operators and other good sports around to gobble up the higher-priced seats. The prices are $3, $6, $12, and $20. If they all come the gate could total as much as $150,000, which would be the biggest in the history of Canada. The fattest to date was the $76,000 drawn by Laurent Dauthille and Johnny Greco, welterweights, in Montreal, in 1949.

Archie Moore figures to fall apart just like the one-hoss shay one of these nights, but unless this happens, July 25, he should dispose of James J. Parker much as he pleases.

Then the old pappy guy will be ready for Floyd Patterson or anybody else who stands between him and the heavyweight championship which, with Rocky Marciano retired, he so richly deserves.

FORMER CHILD ACTOR ARRESTED—Actor Bobby Driscoll, 19, stands in Los Angeles police station July 10 after, police said, he was arrested on felony narcotics charge. Police said they recovered a bag of marijuana from a car of a friend who had just left Driscoll's home in suburban Pacific Palisades. (AP Wirephoto)

First Kidnaping

First recorded kidnaping in New York occurred when the Indians carried off a settler called Peter Chimneysweep, whose real name was Peter Andriesen.

Around 260 million pounds of frozen strawberries were packed in the United States in 1955.

Many Motorists

The metropolitan area of Los Angeles has more automobiles per capita than any similar area—roughly 2,100,000, or an average of five cars for every four families.

Wildest Bout

On September 14, 1923, in boxing's wildest scene, Firpo knocked Jack Dempsey out of the ring. Dempsey recovered and won the fight.

Machen Stops Valdes in 8th

Miami Beach, Fla., July 12 (AP)—Unbeaten Eddie Machc his prestige heightened by a smashing knockout victory last night over Cuban giant, Nino Valdes, apparently will be in no hurry to go after bigger game.

"The kid's still green," said Machen's cagy manager, Sid Flaherty. "He's got a lot to learn.

When I think he's ready for bigger fights, I'll get them for him."

MACHEN, a quick-striking opportunist from California, bent Valdes like a jackknife with a thudding right to the stomach in the eighth round. Ten seconds later Nino, lying on his side, was counted out for the first time in his career. The bout was scheduled for 10 rounds.

Already the 10th ranking heavyweight, although he has had only 15 professional fights, Machen undoubtedly advanced a notch or two in the ratings on his sparkling victory over Valdes in the nationally televised bout from the Miami Beach Auditorium.

The 24-year-old Californian has won them all, 12 by knockouts.

Machen weighed 192 pounds, 14½ less than Valdes.

Texas Driver Is Given Jail Term

John L. Frasier of Houston, Tex., was fined $25 and given 10 days in County Jail by Justice of the Peace William P. Malloy of Phoenicia Monday afternoon when Frasier was found guilty of driving while intoxicated. Unable to pay the fine Frasier was committed to jail for 35 days. Frasier was arrested at 2 a. m. July 6 by Troopers H. S. Rhodes and Joseph Ellsworth and held for a hearing July 9, along with Raymond Vernon McNabb of Leesville, La., who was charged with being an unlicensed operator.

McNabb, who had recently been discharged from a hospital following an operation, was fined $10 but payment of the fine was suspended on recommendation of the Ulster County jail physician who said McNabb needed hospital treatment. Judge Malloy suspended payment of the fine and advised McNabb to enter a veteran's hospital.

Frasier had a prior conviction in New York state for car theft and had served three years of a five-year term and had just completed the two-year parole. McNabb also had a prior conviction and had served three years in Texas for burglary, Judge Malloy said.

Area Producers

From January 1 to June 1, 1956 teh dealer price was $5.02 and the pool price $4.12.

These figures he testified indicated producers would "have to sustain an unbearable loss in income."

COMPUTING his own loss, according to the foregoing figures he said his loss in 1953 would have been $1,078.44, in 1954 $2,-331.18; in 1955 $2,645.01 and for the first five months of 1956 $1,-310.40, or a total for the three years and five months of $7,-365.03.

A continuation of that loss would mean he could not continue in business he said. He testified that with the coming of IBM and other industry to the area wages have gone up and pool prices, if in effect, would wreck the milk industry.

UNLESS THE proponents of the order can guarantee a continuation of the present prices now being received locally, he asked that the Kingston area be excluded from the order.

Also testifying against the order was Henry W. Kamps, a director of the Kingston Area Milk Producers' Association.. He operates a 187 acre dairy farm at Saugerties and presently milks 50 cows. He has been in the dairy business for 18 years and said an extension of the order to include Ulster county would mean a "substantial" loss to producers. If forced to take the pool price, Kamps said, dairy farmers would be forced out of business.

Kamps submitted figures to show that from 1950 through June 1, 1956, he would have lost $25,042.19 had he been receiving pool prices. He said he could not stand a $3,900 loss annually and opposed extension of the order.

Officers of the Kingston Area Milk Producers' Association are Charles P. Relyea, president; Philip Boice, vice-president; Daniel Barnhart, secretary-treasurer. Directors are Howard C. Anderson, Richard Boice and Henry Kamps.

Charles Gaffney is attorney for the association.

Ike Backers Plan Big Bandwagons

New York, July 12 (AP)—A super-charged blockbuster of color, sounds and spectacle was being readied today to stir up fervor for President Eisenhower along the main streets of America.

"We're going to use every physical, emotional and visual means of getting the message across," said C. Langhorne Washburn, director of special activities for the "National Citizens for Eisenhower" organization.

There'll be huge floating balloons, parades, blaring loud speakers, moving pictures, reams of press releases, television "quickies," music, rallies, pretty girls in "Ike Dresses" and campaign buttons galore.

All this is part of a high-powered task force getting set to invade cities and towns across the country, beating campaign drums for the reelection of Eisenhower.

Dutchess Woman Holds Golf Lead

Cortland, N. Y., July 12 (AP)—Defending champion Naomi Venable of Poughkeepsie took a 1-up lead at nine holes over former state champion Mrs. Philip Allen of Syracuse in the quarter final match play round of the state women's golf championship today. Five-time state tourney winner, Mrs. Reinert Torgerson of Forest Hills, Queens, and Mrs. George Trainer of Rochester were all even after nine holes as were Mrs. Thomas Cantwell of Saranac Lake and Mrs. Max (Cookie) Berger of Buffalo.

Making the turn in the first of two elimination rounds scheduled today, Miss Sylvia Maurycy of Schenectady was four down to Mrs. Wayne Rutter of Buffalo.

Women's par at the Cortland County Club 6,137-yard course is 38-37-75.

Miss Venable went one up when she took a par five on the 465-yard fourth hole as Mrs. Allen got down in six. The Syracuse shot-maker evened things on the fifth with a birdie five on the 530-yard hole. She sank a two-foot putt after chipping to the pin from 75-feet out.

Esopus

Esopus, July 12—The regular meeting of Boy Scout Troop 82 will be held in the firehouse Monday at 7:30 p. m.

A surprise stork shower was held at the home of Mrs. William Chandler on Monday night for Mrs. George Ehrbar.

William Drescher, Sr., of West Esopus, has returned from a tour of Europe.

The regular meeting of the Ladies' Auxiliary will be held at the firehouse Tuesday at 8 p. m.

The Rev. Frank Coutant will conduct Sunday services at 10:30 a. m. at Esopus Methodist Church.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank McMorrow and family of Jersey City, N. J., are spending their vacation in West Esopus at the home of Mrs. P. F. Loughlin.

Sunday Masses for the summer months at the Sacred Heart Church will be offered at 8, 9, 10 and 11 a. m. Novena to Our Lady of Perpetual Help Wednesday at 8 p. m., followed by Benediction of the Most Blessed Sacrament. Holy Mass is celebrated every Saturday at 8 a. m. The annual bazaar will be held August 17 and 18.

MIDDLE EAST "FIRE HEADQUARTERS"—In a pamphlet just issued to British armed forces on Cyprus, Great Britain tells its troops they are "firemen" ready to respond to an alarm anywhere in the explosive Middle East. Map above shows strategic location of the turbulent island in relation to nearby trouble spots. The pamphlet pointedly declares that Britain's presence on Cyprus as a sovereign power bolsters the confidence of Turkey—only 40 miles away—and of other allies in the Baghdad pact.

Rumors Continue To Hamper Police In Kidnap Case

Westbury, N. Y., July 12 (AP)—The search for kidnaped Peter Weinberger, 40 days old if he is alive, spread far and wide today with the FBI actively in the case.

Rumors and crackpots continued to plague investigators and add to the burden of grief carried by Mr. and Mrs. Morris Weinberger.

THEIR TINY son vanished from his carriage on the rear patio of their home eight days ago.

In Brooklyn yesterday a woman who identified herself as Shirley Ginsberg, 34, was arrested as an accessory to the kidnapping in that she allegedly gave false information and obstructed the investigation.

The woman, a farmer mental patient, was picked up in a candy store. Nassau county police said they had intercepted a telephone call she placed to the Weinberger home.

"I EXPECTED you boys," she was quoted as saying. "I knew you would come after what happened to those other two in Queens yesterday. I shouldn't have done it."

The "other two" were alleged hoaxers accused of luring Mrs. Weinberger into a vain, six-hour vigil Sunday night during which $5,000 ransom was to be paid and the baby returned. The two men were arraigned in Queens Tuesday on charges of attempted extortion and giving false information on a kidnaping.

ACROSS THE continent from this prosperous residential suburb, FBI agent Dick Held checked a report last night that the Weinberger child might have arrived in San Diego, Calif., earlier on an airliner in the arms of a "dishevelled" woman.

The report from an airport custodian, Held said, "doesn't look like much."

In Westbury, Stuyvesant Pinnell, chief of Nassau county detectives, added that he knew nothing about it.

The FBI, which until yesterday had been only an observer in the case, turned hunter with a brief but pointed announcement from director J. Edgar Hoover.

Hoover, in Washington, said his agency's "full resources have been made available with a view to effecting a solution to the case."

Two Changes Are Indicated in Business Circles

Two changes affecting local business were reported underway today, one concering an automobile franchise and the other a gasoline service station.

A source of information said that one of the city's best-known car dealers is negotiating for the Pontiac agency on upper Broadway.

Jerry Martin, associated for a number of years with Frank Moran, handling Dodges on the 9W Bypass, said he had no announcement to make at present.

Workmen were busy at the Socony station, Broadway and Hoffman street, with operations indicating a remodeling project, but officials of the oil firm were non-committal.

Shah Not Satisfied

Moscow, July 12 (AP)—The Shah of Iran left Moscow today, his talks with Soviet government leaders ended in polite but open disagreement. A joint Soviet-Iranian communique which had been scheduled for signing Tuesday was postponed and later canceled. Iran's continued adherence to the western-sponsored Baghdad pact apparently was the stumbling block. Shah Mohammed Reza Pahlevi and Queen Soraya took off from Moscow's central airport en route to Tehran after a 17-day tour of the Soviet Union.

Accepts West Arms Plan

United Nations, N. Y., July 12 (AP)—Soviet Deputy Foreign Minister Andrei Gromyko today accepted the ceilings for armed forces proposed by the western powers for the first stage of disarmament. Speaking before the UN Disarmament Commission, he dropped the Soviet Union's insistence on lower ceilings. He also proposed an agreement to stop nuclear bomb tests, eliminate stock piles of such bombs, end their production and ban their use.

Job Insurance Rates Lowest in Eight Years

New York, July 12 (AP)—Unemployment insurance tax rates in New York state for 1956 are the lowest in eight years and the second lowest on record, Industrial Commissioner Isador Lubin said today.

Lubin said this year's tax rates for the state's 191,000 covered employers averaged 1.48 per cent of taxable payrolls, compared to 1.53 last year and 1.59 in 1954.

The 1956 rate has been bettered only by the 1.37 per cent rate in 1948, said the commissioner, who quoted figures from a report submitted by Richard C. Brockway, executive director of the State Labor Department's Division of Employment.

Moves for Early Retrial

Newburgh, N. Y., July 12 (AP)—Dist. Atty Abraham Isseks has moved for an early retrial of George M. Ruocco and Joseph P. Marsala. Their murder trial ended yesterday when an Orange county jury declared itself "hopelessly deadlocked." Ruocco and Marsala, both 26 and of New York city, are accused of the slaying of Al Frias, one-time Fall River, Mass., welterweight boxer.

Driver Injured Fatally

Vestal, N. Y., July 12 (AP)—Augustine Skrivann, 33, of Johnson City, was injured fatally today when his station wagon crashed through a guard rail on Route 17 two miles west of this Broome county community.
